TALKIN'

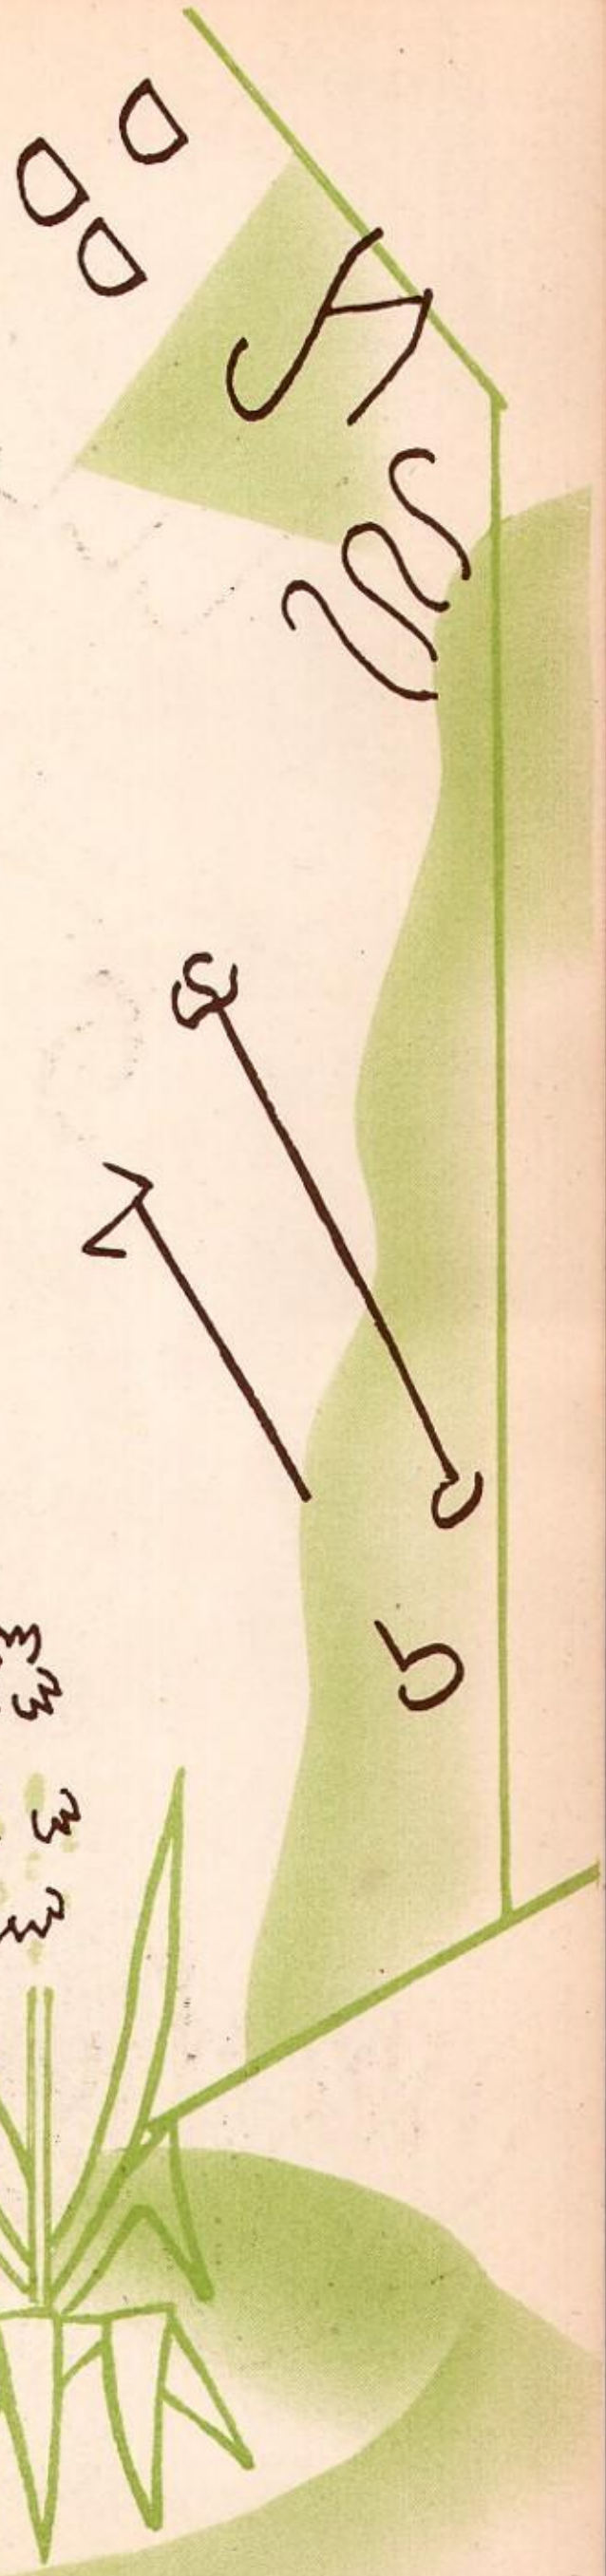
It has been our desire to present, as the theme for our 1948 Coyote, a few of the more familiar phases of ranch life which originated with the early American cowboy and which are still practiced today. In this way, we shall attempt, with pictures and words, to preserve the remembrance of the old-time cowhand and to honor those of the present day.

Although the word "cowboy" originated during the Revolutionary War days when bands of Tory guerillas called themselves by that name, no credit is due them for making the west as it is today, since the majority of them couldn't even jerk a milk pitcher" or rope a steer. To the old-timers, the word "cowboy" brings to mind the "wild-ridin'," "gun-totin'" salty dogs who roared into the plains and hills of young Texas and with their "shootin' irons" put windows in the skulls of all who stood in their way.

Actually, the legitimate cowboy came into existence around 1821, when the honest-to-goodness cowpokes followed the cattle into Texas. There they discovered the Mexican ranches and commercial possibilities in the herds of ownerless horses and cattle and settled down. Those were just plain old bowlegged humans with "hell in their necks" who would heel a steer in a matter of seconds and shoot the eyes out of a rattle-snake at forty paces.

The cowboy was careful to choose his costume for utility and not for picturesqueness. "Chaparajos" or chaps (leather armor for the legs) protected him from thorns, goring cattle and falling horses; high heels prevented entanglements in the stirrup and furnished an anchorage for throwing a lariat; and a neckerchief drawn across the nose and mouth made breathing possible amid the stifling dust in the long herd drives. Evidence of these appear in our division pages.

TEXAN



The "wild West" is no more—at least that portion of it as portrayed in the Saturday night movies—but still living are the many Texas traditions. And although most of the "thumb-busters" have been polished and mounted, boot sales are climbing daily; and a ten gallon hat is still an everyday sight. A Texas tradition which has been greatly publicized is that of "braggin'." There is scarcely a Texan to be found who will deny that Texas does its share of bragging, but it is wise not to get him started in an "argurin' match," as he has plenty of facts to back up his right to brag. Texas has 25,000,000 acres of grasslands for its cattle; it is the nation's leading cattle state; and the receipts from its cattle and products in 1945 totaled $589,382,000. It takes a "whale-of-a-lot" of Texans with "sand and guts" to handle Texas' 340,818 farms and ranches.

Of course, Texas is not composed entirely of natives. It is made up of people from all states and nationalities who have settled here for reasons of their own. Nevertheless, whether he is a native of Texas or not, living within its borders long enough will instill a certain pride in anyone; and eventually he begins to call himself a "Texan." He gradually feels the pride that a true Texan does when he sees the Texas flag or sings her anthem. These are the people who give Texas her proud name, and to these regular "Texans," native or not, we dedicate our 1948 Coyote.

A COWBOY LINGO

BOTH ENDS AGAINST THE MIDDLE	A sure thing.
BRONC BUSTERS	Men who follow the hazardous profession of breaking horses as a steady business; experienced cowhands.
BUCKAROOS	Cowboys of average experience.
CHUCK-WAGON	The mess hall of the cow country.
COWBOY	Caballero; cowhand; cowman; cowpoke; knight-of-the branding iron; mail-order cowboy; trail hand; trail rider ; vanqueros.
CRITTERS	The cows; prima donnas of the range.
FOREMAN	A man hired by the rancher to manage detailed affairs of the ranch.
GEE, HAW AND WHOA	Directions given to a work horse.
GREENHORNS	Cowhands with little experience.
HELL IN THEIR NECKS	Determination.
JERK A MILK PITCHER	To milk a cow.
LEADMEN	Men occuping the honored post at the head of a cattle drive.

ENGLISH

Four years of English are required of each cowpoke before his participation in the big graduation rodeo. Besides learning to emit words such as "geé, haw and whoa" plainly and correctly, he is taught the language of the foreigners who live outside Texas' boundries.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Though it may be difficult to realize, Texas is not the only state which raises cattle. Necessary to equip those unfortunate cattlemen who must live away from our country, courses dealing with social progress other than that of Texas history must be taught. These are American history, European history, civics and economics.

MATHEMATICS

To run his ranch efficiently, every cowman must be schooled in mathematics. After completing such courses as advanced and commercial arithmetic, algebra, plane and solid geometry and trigonometry, no longer must he tediously count each head of cattle in order to discover the number in his herd. He can now do it with precision and swiftness: count all the legs and divide by four.

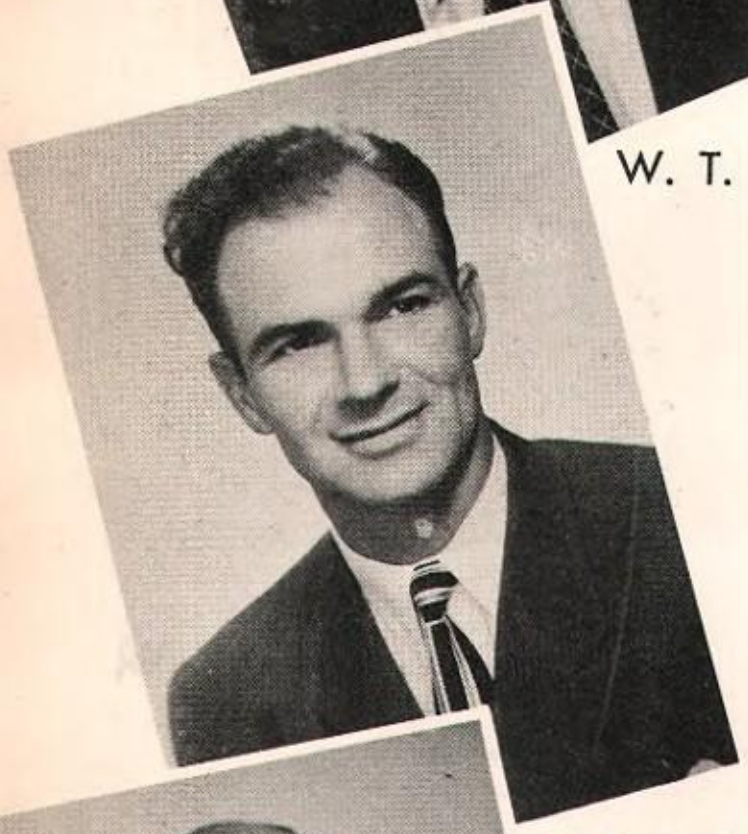
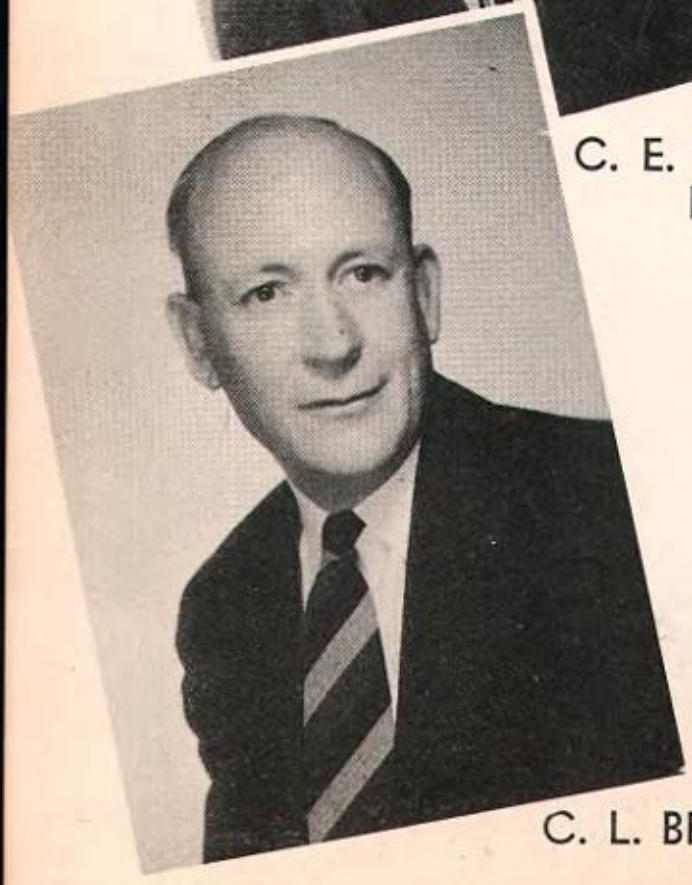
BIOLOGY

Knowledge of the muscle structure of the "critters" is something no modern cowhand can do without, and he must be just as well trained in distinguishing the plants on the range. Who wants his milk turned sour by bitter-weeds?

SCIENCE





C. E. CARAWAY, B.S.

CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS

For the young scientists, the chemistry and physics departments offer an unfenced range in which cowhands may roam. After completion of either course, the student is scientifically prepared to check the diets and the purity of the water of the prima-donnas of any range.

INDUSTRIAL COOPERATIVE TRAINING

Industrial cooperative training is offered by WFSH in order that the cowpokes may become "lead men" in a chosen industrial occupation. The boys are given an opportunity to become skilled in work with experienced foremen as guides.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Any mail order cowboy who wishes to become an experienced hand in the retail world will find distributive education helpful. This course gives valuable training in buying and selling as well as in providing guidance from the range manager who brands problems which arise.

Home on the commercial range

MRS. JULIA CRISSEY, B.A.

Poco a poco aprendemos mucho.
(Little by little we learn much.)

SPANISH

Though not all of Texas' cattlemen have dealings with cattle-raisers south of the border, for all who do, a fair knowledge of the Spanish language proves indispensible. Spanish will prove useful not only in traveling, but also in advancing the good neighbor policy.

AGNES ZIHLMAN, M.A.

LATIN

Cowpokes who follow the trail of Latin will gain knowledge which will benefit them as they ride trail on such professions as medicine, law, journalism and ministry. This language also furthers the student's knowledge of English and provides a basis for the study of other languages.

NELL SAMMONS, M.A.

SPEECH

This department offers courses in fundamental speech, dramatics, play production, platform speaking, radio and debate which aid the knights of the branding iron in overcoming a natural timidity.

R. S. VANHOOVE, M.S.

Speech students learn," . . . the first duty of man is to speak."

FOOTLIGHT PLAYERS' CLUB

Play acting may not produce a good cattle-cutter, but range duty with this outstanding school organization helps to develop poise and provides many hours of entertainment around the school campfires.

MRS. EULA WILSON, B.S.

Cowhands are here to "gab and grab."

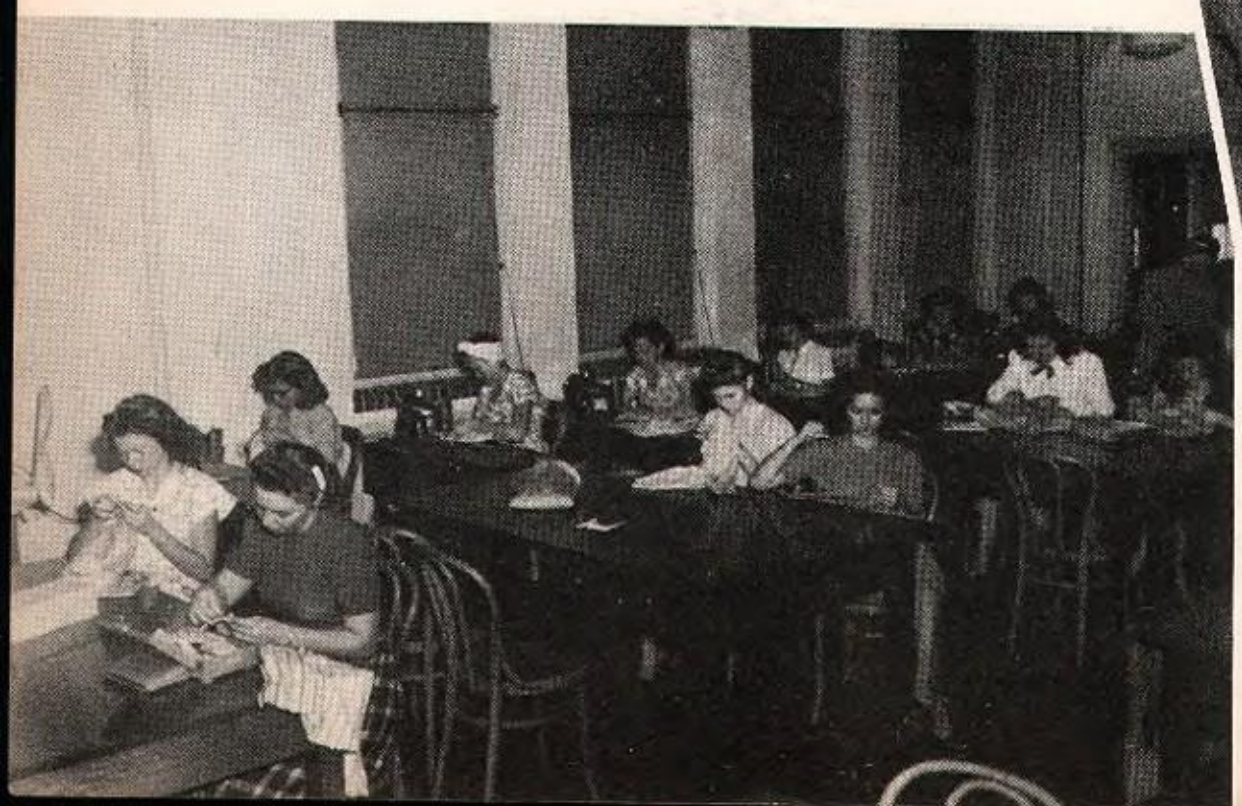
CAFETERIA

WFSH has one of the best grazing ranges in North Texas, and the cowhands bring their yearlings here for daily pasturing while they partake of the best chuck-wagon dinners in the land.

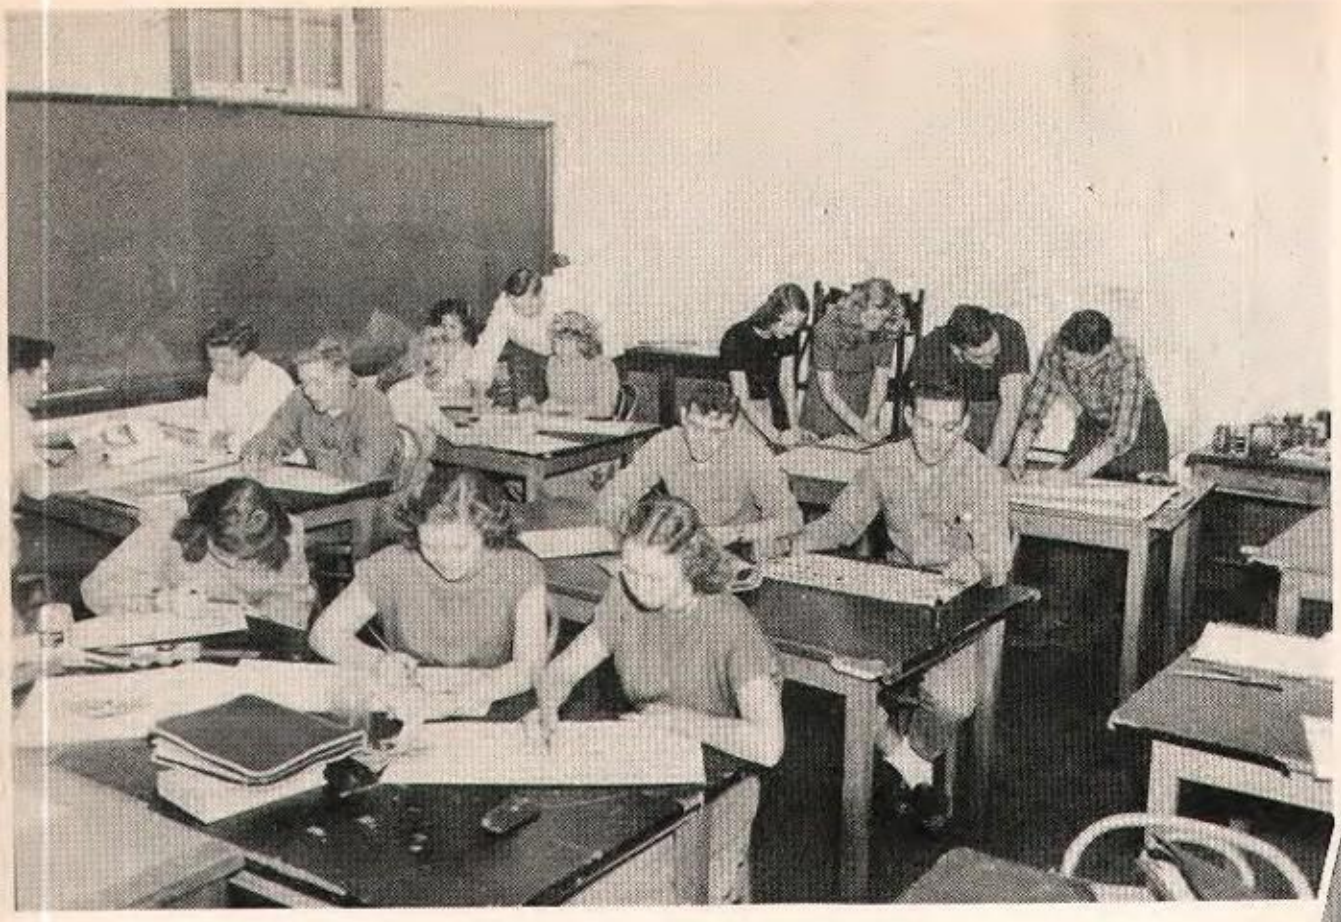
HOMEMAKING

For those long cattle drives a good chuck-wagon boss is essential, and any graduate of this homemaking course is well qualified to fill the job. Many helpful phases are included in the general courses of foods and clothing.

LELA TOMLINSON, M.A.



These cowgirls will soon be modeling their own handiwork.



The field of art and layout has bright prospects.

LOIS McGAUGHY, M.A.

ART

On this range the trail hands may explore any one of the number of uncharted trails in the field of art. Included are drawing, modeling, designing, art in advertising, lettering, figure drawing, painting, water-coloring, interior design, block printing, stenciling, survey of painting and layout design.

SARA DUNN SISTRUNK, M.F.A.

MUSIC

The lone cowboy found companionship in a song. The senior a cappella and the boys' and girls' ensembles, directed by Miss Sara Dunn Sistrunk, have given the WFSH cowhands many hours of enjoyment.

BAND

Gradually growing from "guitar pickin' " and "fiddle scrapin' " have come new instruments for range enjoyment. From the football field to the concert stage, WFSH offers musical instruction to all cowhands desiring it under the direction of Mr. Tom McCarty.

RS. RUTH HARRIS, M.A.

LIBRARY

A. cowhand may come to this range and find opportunities for research and pleasure. An extensive selection of books is at his disposal before, during and after school.

STUDY HALL

It's "both ends against the middle" that a caballero can complete all of his homework in the quiet atmosphere of the study halls.

NATALIE GORIN, B.A.

Here the power of concentration prevails.

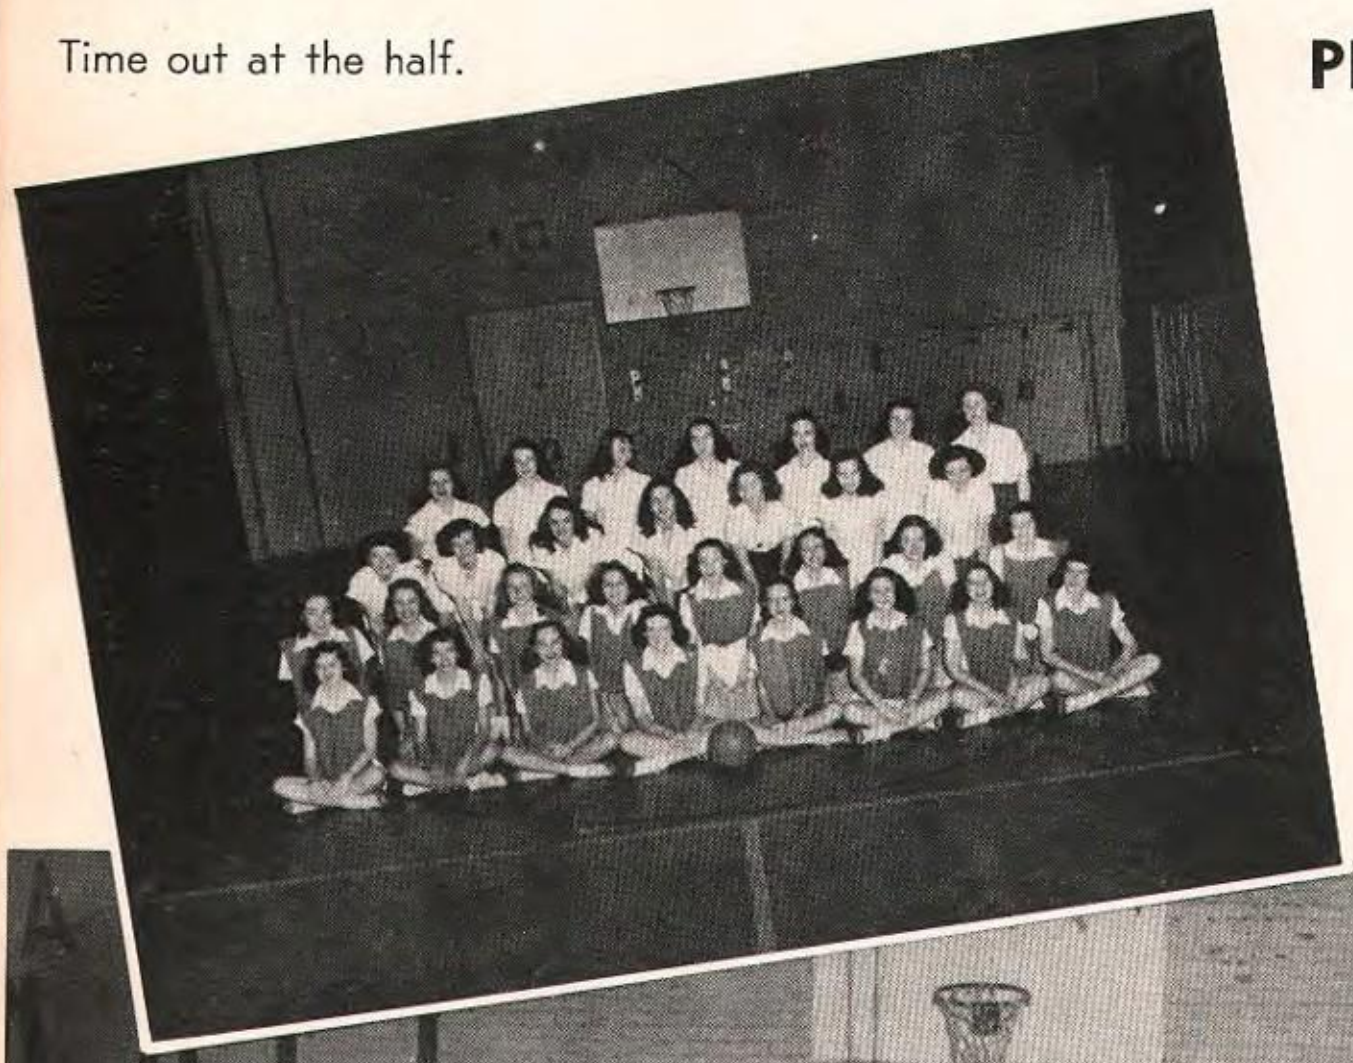
HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

To develop the traits of poise, cooperation and co-ordination, WFSH's "sage hens" undergo a rigorous health and physical education plan, supervised by competent instructors. These activities produce healthy bodies and healthy minds trained to undertake responsibility and to do a job well.

Time out at the half.



You won't find a pyramid like this one in Egypt.

H. F. MALONE, M.S.

JOE L. GOLDING, B.S.

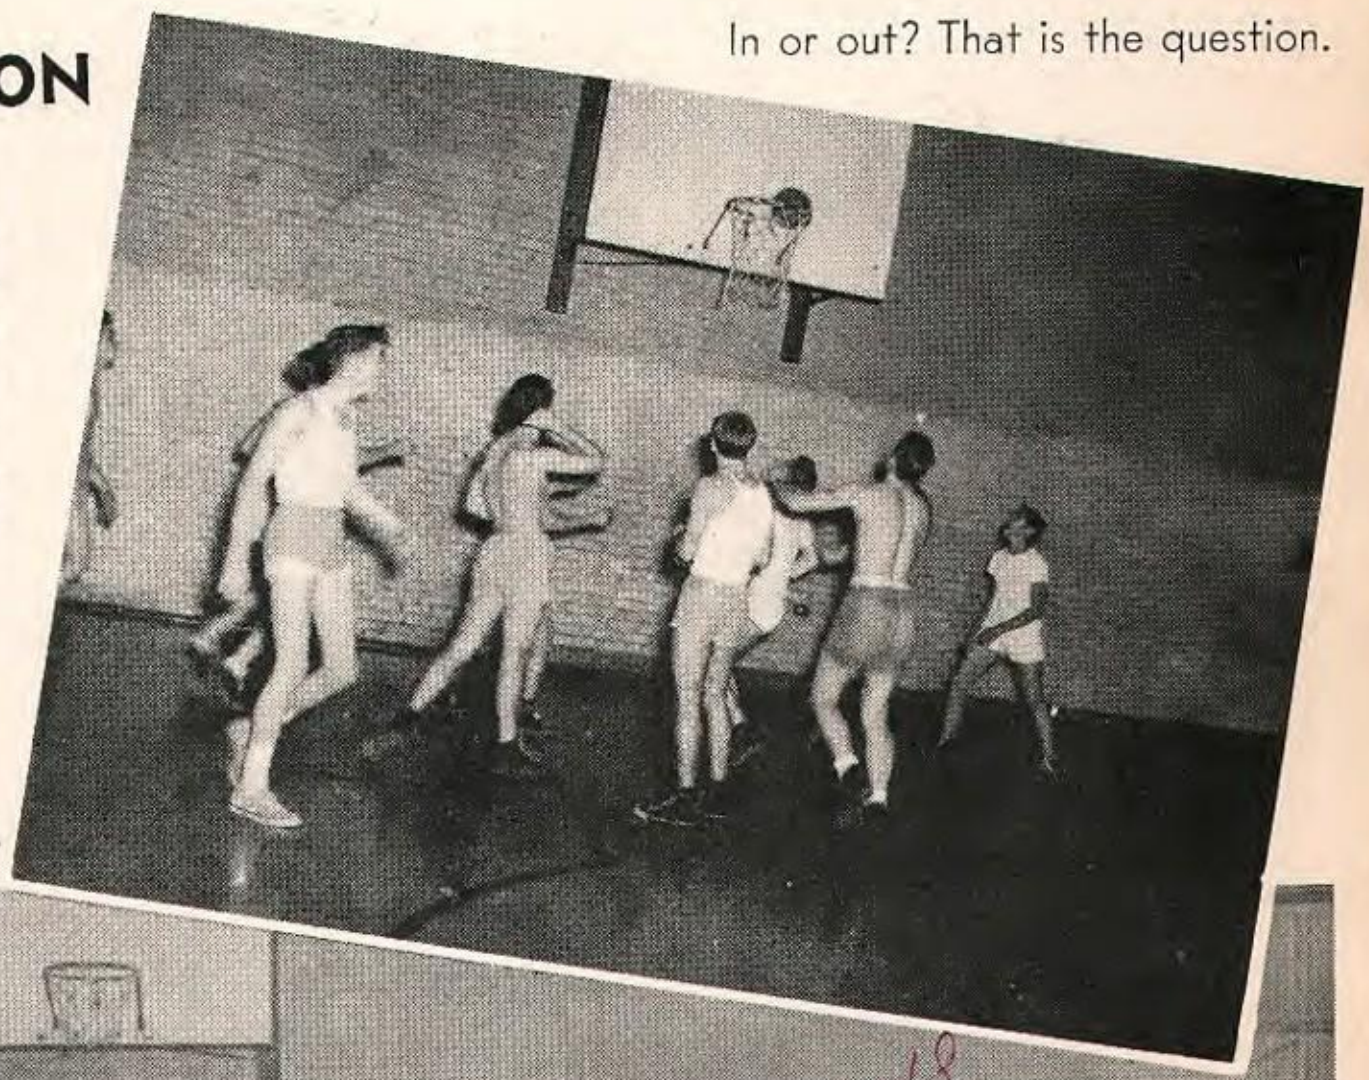
Ranahans aren't apt to become expert "ocean-wavers," but it's ten to one that they'll never be "out of the money" with the training they receive in this department. Here they learn the advantages of fair play and good sportsmanship.

In or out? That is the question.



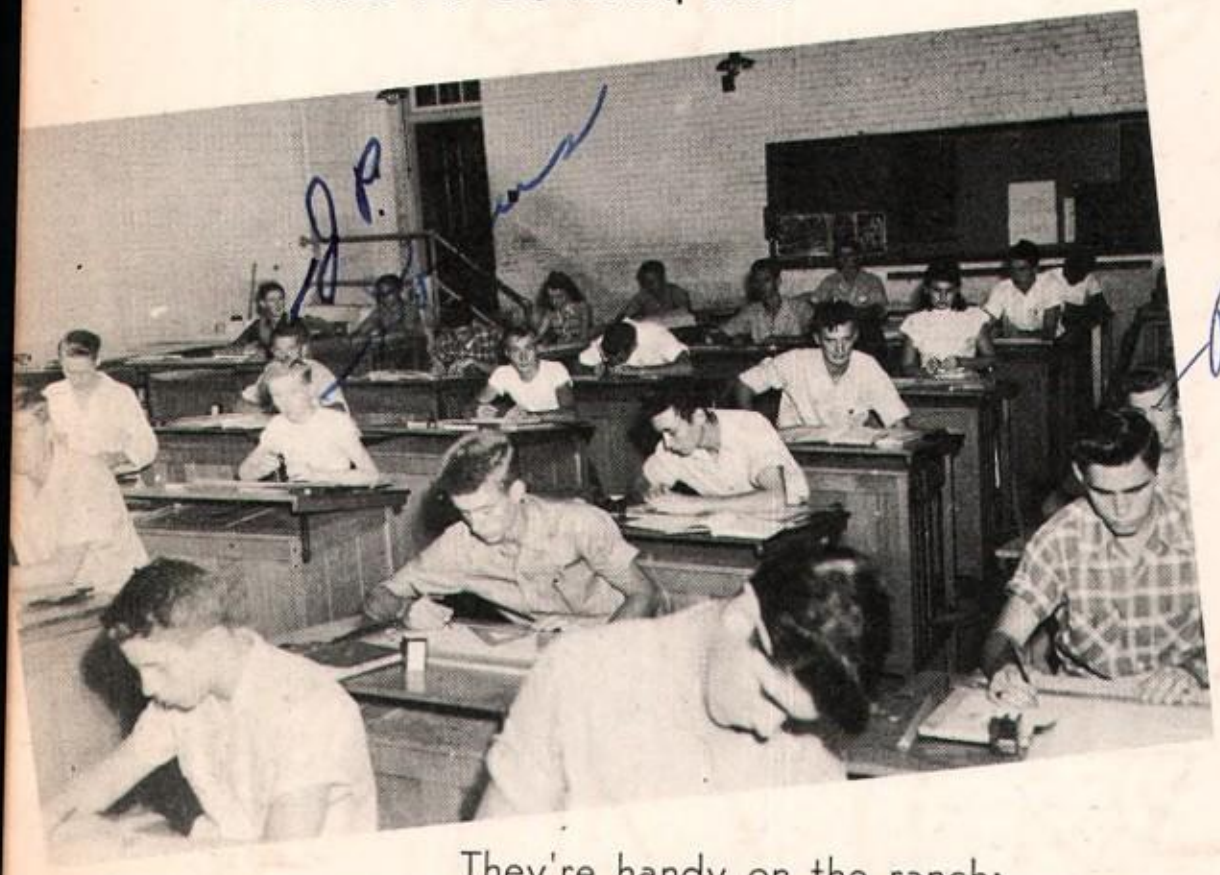
Healthy specimens of masculinity.

JAMES A. COWAN, M.S.

Trigger-quick men around the bunkhouse.

MECHANICAL DRAWING AND SHOPWORK

Whittlin' around the campfire has long been a favorite sport among trail riders. These courses offer practical training in general woodworking, blueprinting, architectural designing and machine drafting, which can help turn idleness into a profitable pastime.



They're handy on the ranch;
They can draw more than water.

STAGECRAFT

The stagecraft class is producing future interior decorators, architects and set-designers. It is a valuable asset to school life not only in its instruction of students, but also in its contributions to school productions.

OUR BRANDING IRON

The Coyote Staff is proud to present these cowhands, the Champions of WFSH, in the '48 roundup of beauty, personality and intelligence. Since some of these have excelled in more than one field, we have placed an asterick by their names to denote this rather than print their pictures more than once. This plan allows us to present a greater number of cowhands who deserve recognition. Those branded for scholarship were selected by the range bosses (faculty), and those branded for beauties and favorites were elected by secret ballot cast by the Bronc Busters, Buckaroos and Greenhorns.

All the photographs in this section were taken at the Hamilton Hereford Farm and the Louis Sikes home. The staff wishes to express sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sikes, and to Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Largent, Jr., for their gracious cooperation.

This 1948 spring round-up of the many and varied activities around the old corral is a real "honest to goodness" WFSH publication. With the exception of the photography in the class, football and favorite sections, all photography, art, layouts and editorial work has been done by members of the Coyote Staff. Though each section has its foreman, the Coyote is essentially a product of the combined efforts of all staff members on all sections.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Cowhands whose secret ambition is to become business administrators find enlightening demonstrations and valuable advice in the Commercial Club. The club includes pointers on job-getting and future business administration.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

OFFICERS

Robert Moore, president; Leta Dawson, sec.-treas.; Jim Vague, vice-pres.; Jean Ann Hirschi, reporter; Miss Pauline Shirley, sponsor.

Punchers are chosen for this honor on a basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service to WFSH. The upper five per cent of the 1947 junior class compose the honor society until May, 1948, when the upper twenty-five per cent of the senior class are admitted.

JUNIOR HISTORIANS

OFFICERS

Martha Man, president; Toni Watson, sec.-treas.; Jim Vague, vice-pres.; Harry White, reporter; Miss Louise Kelly, sponsor.

Cowpokes in the Junior Historians, Chapter 6, have an excellent opportunity to ride a free range when it comes to learning interesting facts about their state.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club is one of WFSH's most enthusiastic clubs. Their year is highlighted by dinners every six weeks for the Virgil class, and an annual Roman banquet with authentic Roman entertainment and food. Their activities include a special assembly during Latin Week.

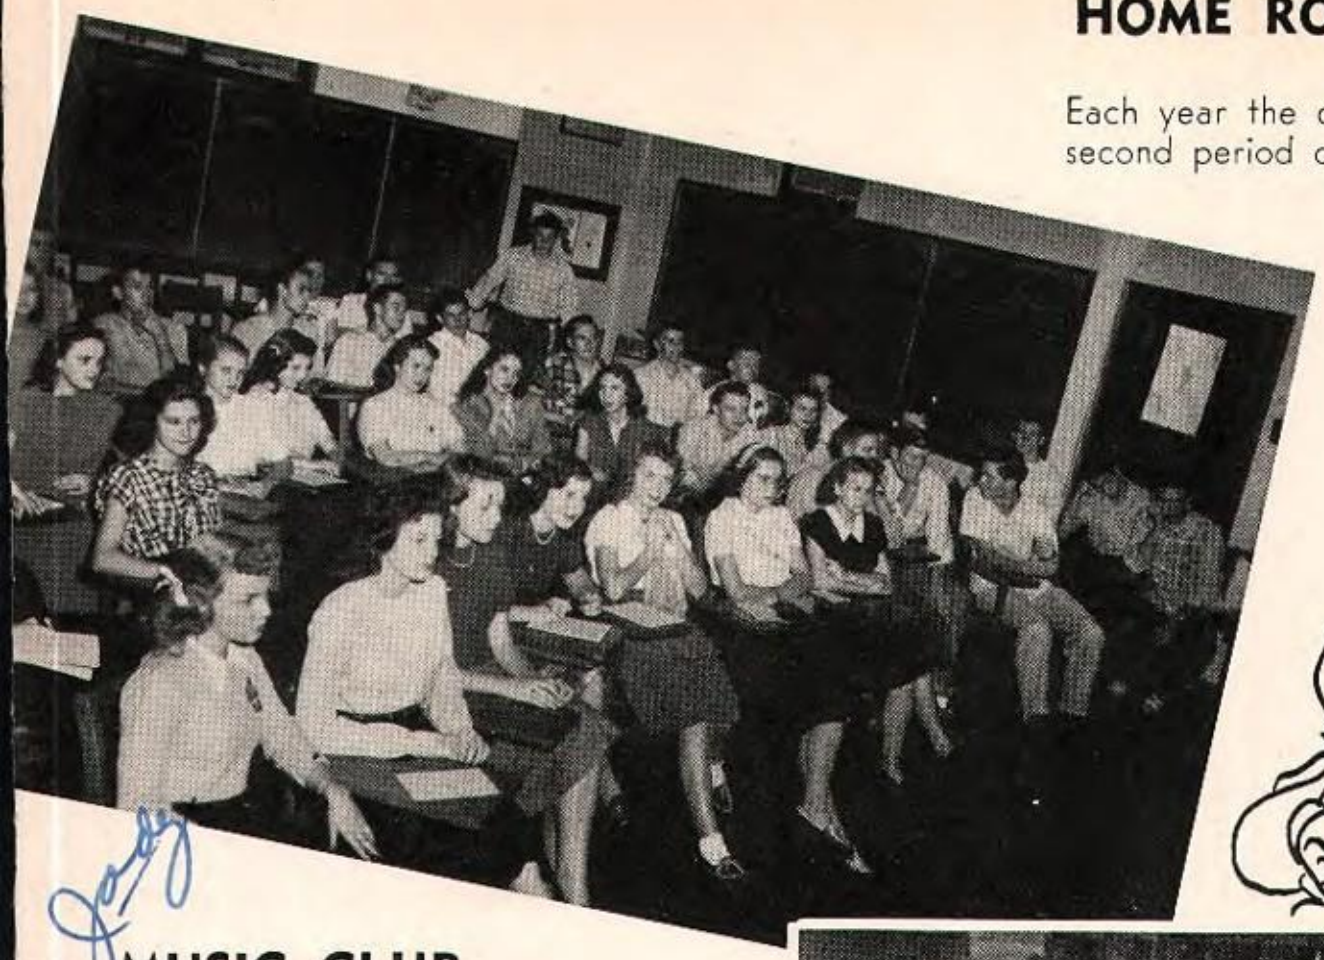
GOLF CLUB

Cowhands who are initiated into this club meet at regular intervals at the Municipal Club for practice and play. This club turns unaccomplished players into experienced sportsmen.

OFFICERS

Charles Scarlett, president
Jack Meyer, vice president
Henry Coger, secretary and treasurer
Mr. Joe Garland, sponsor.

HOME ROOM REPRESENTATIVES



Each year the cowhands select a lead man for their second period corral to represent them in the school government. This year the chief topic of the pow-wows was to make all the cowpokes in school realize their responsibilities as students in WFSH.

OFFICERS

Betty Belue, president
Billy Valentine, vice-president
Mr. G. A. Reaves, sponsor.

MUSIC CLUB

Music has a prominent place in the lives of all Westerners. The Music Club is sponsored in order to develop appreciation for a greater variety of music.

FREDDIE BLASSINGAME

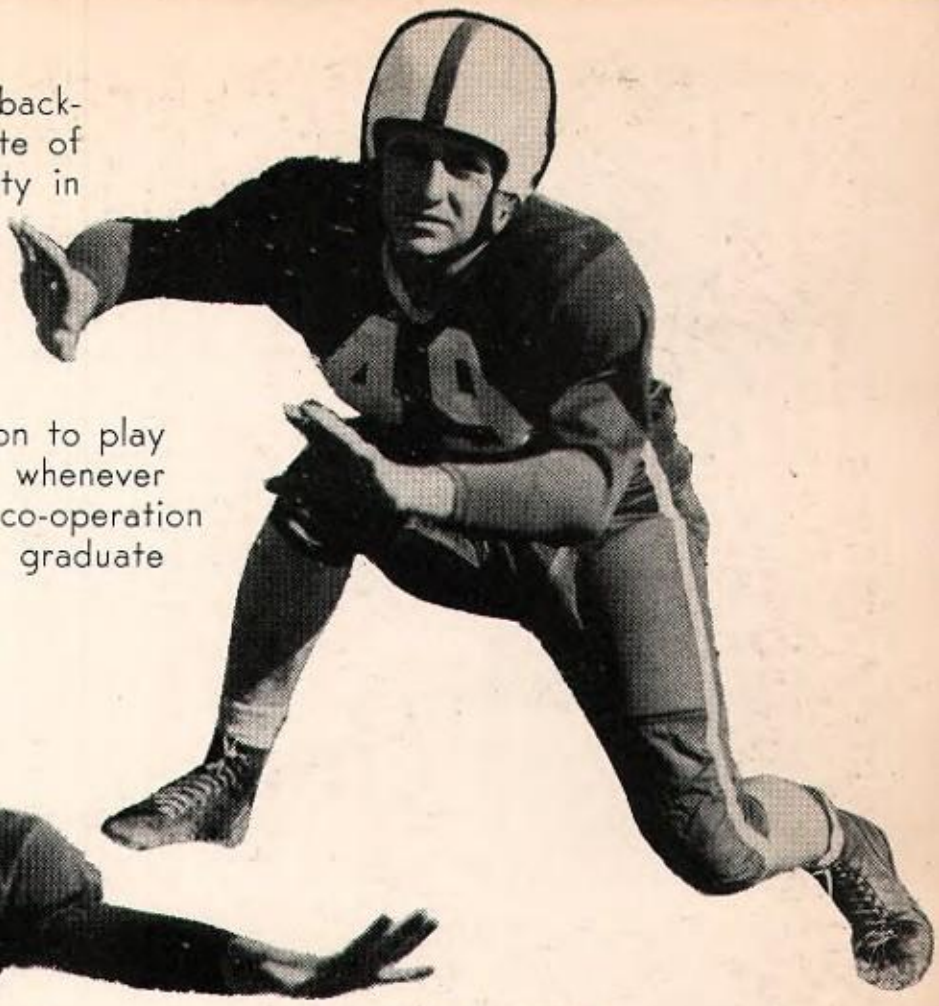
Freddie also has the responsibility of the football equipment. It was his job to administer to the needs of the team whenever necessary and be "Johnny on the spot" for needed aid.

ALBERT ANDERSON

Albert was one of the fine managers of the COYOTES. Through his efforts, the team had the needed equipment on time and at the right time. He will graduate this year.

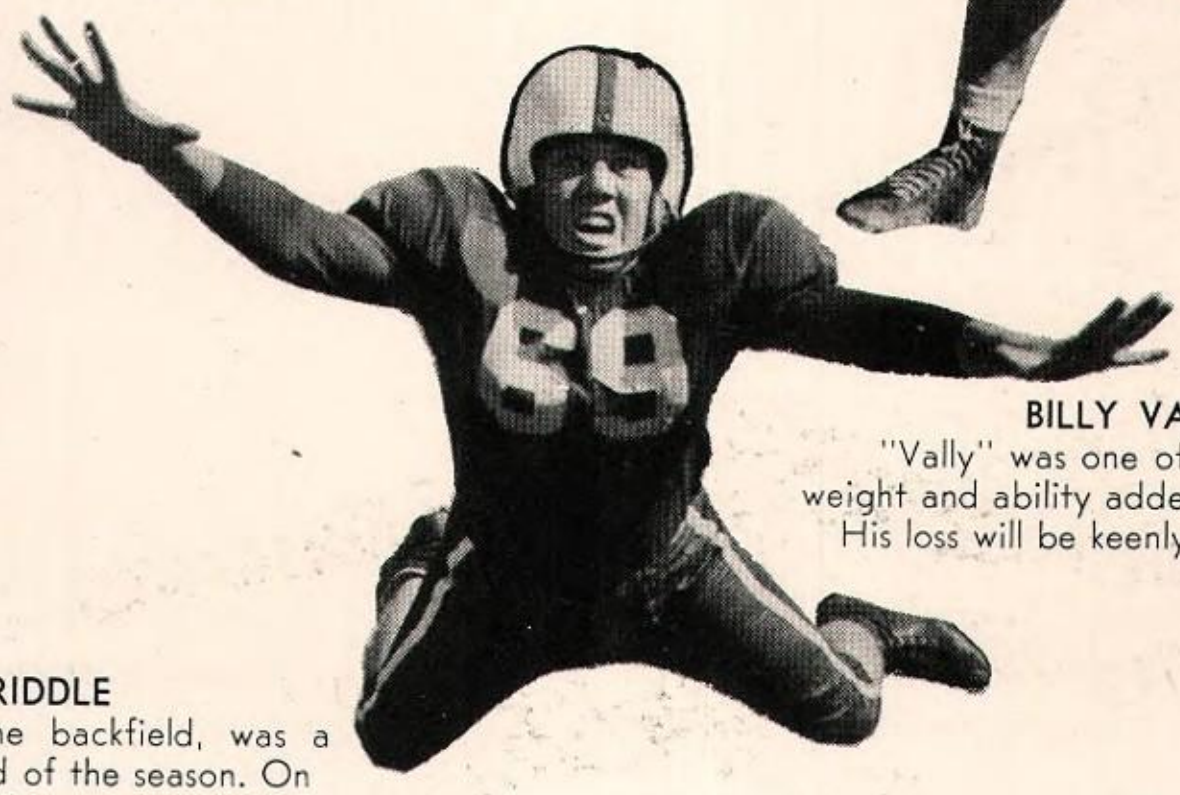
DON GREEN

"Moon," alternating at guard and in the backfield, proved himself a valuable player in spite of his size. Adding to his value is Moon's ability in calling signals.



JESS CROSS

Jess could always be depended on to play a hard game at the tackle position whenever he was called upon. His spirit and co-operation added a lot to the team. He will graduate this year.

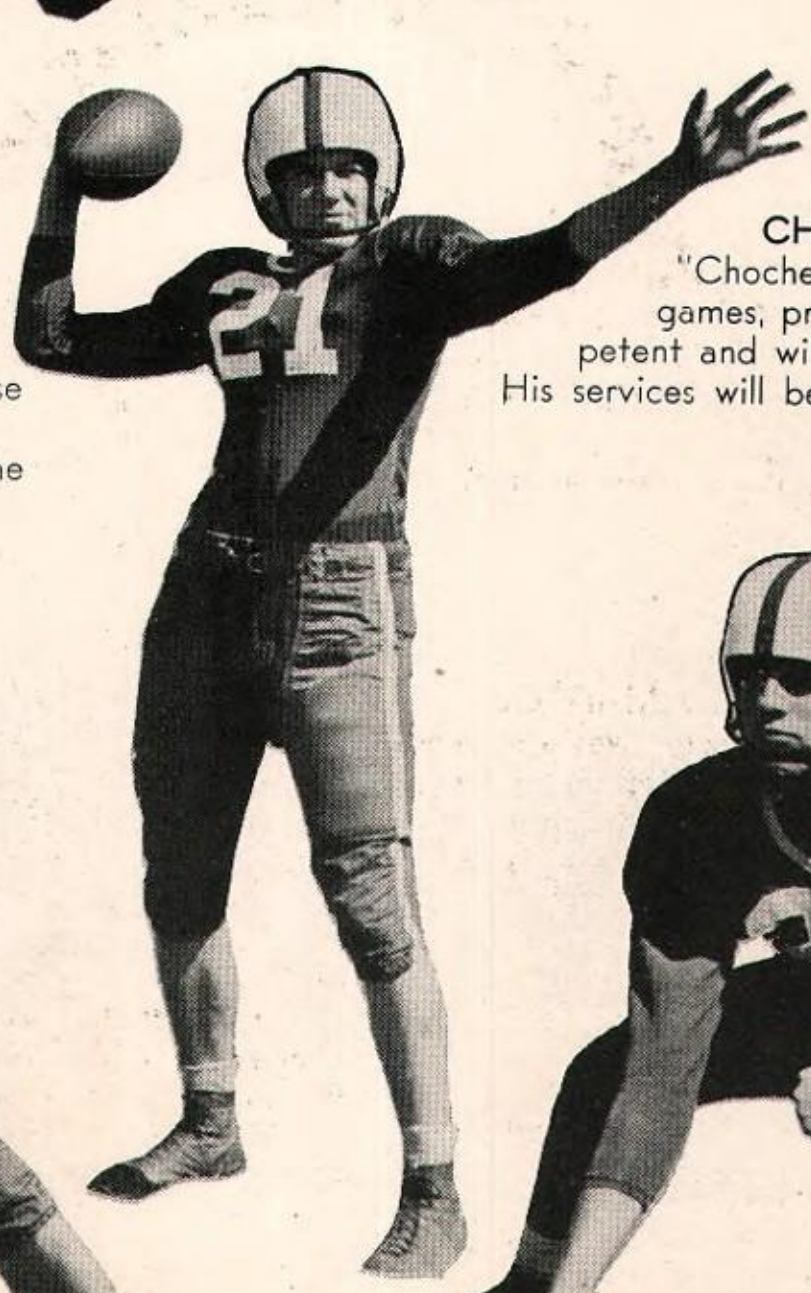


BILLY VALENTINE

"Vally" was one of our hardest tacklers. His weight and ability added much power to our line. His loss will be keenly felt next year.

JAMES RIDDLE

James, playing in the backfield, was a standout toward the end of the season. On offense he had a great throwing arm which connected several passes for long gains. He will be lost through graduation.

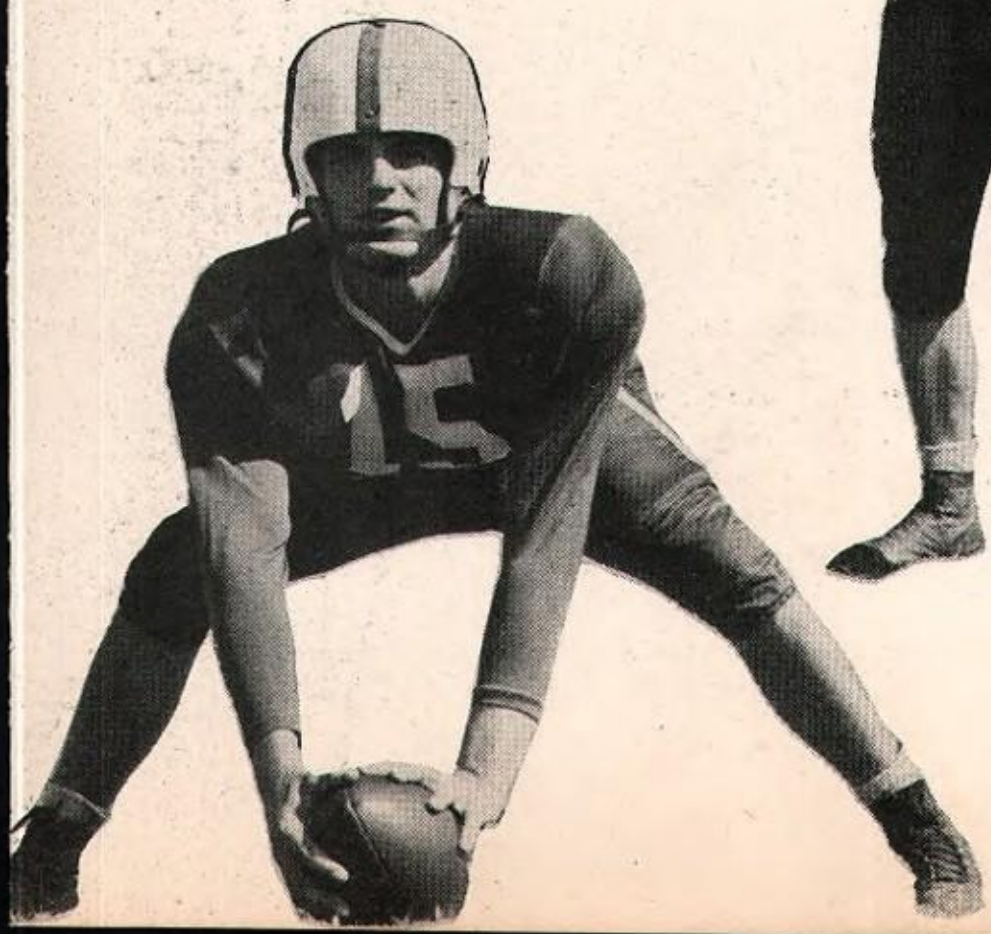


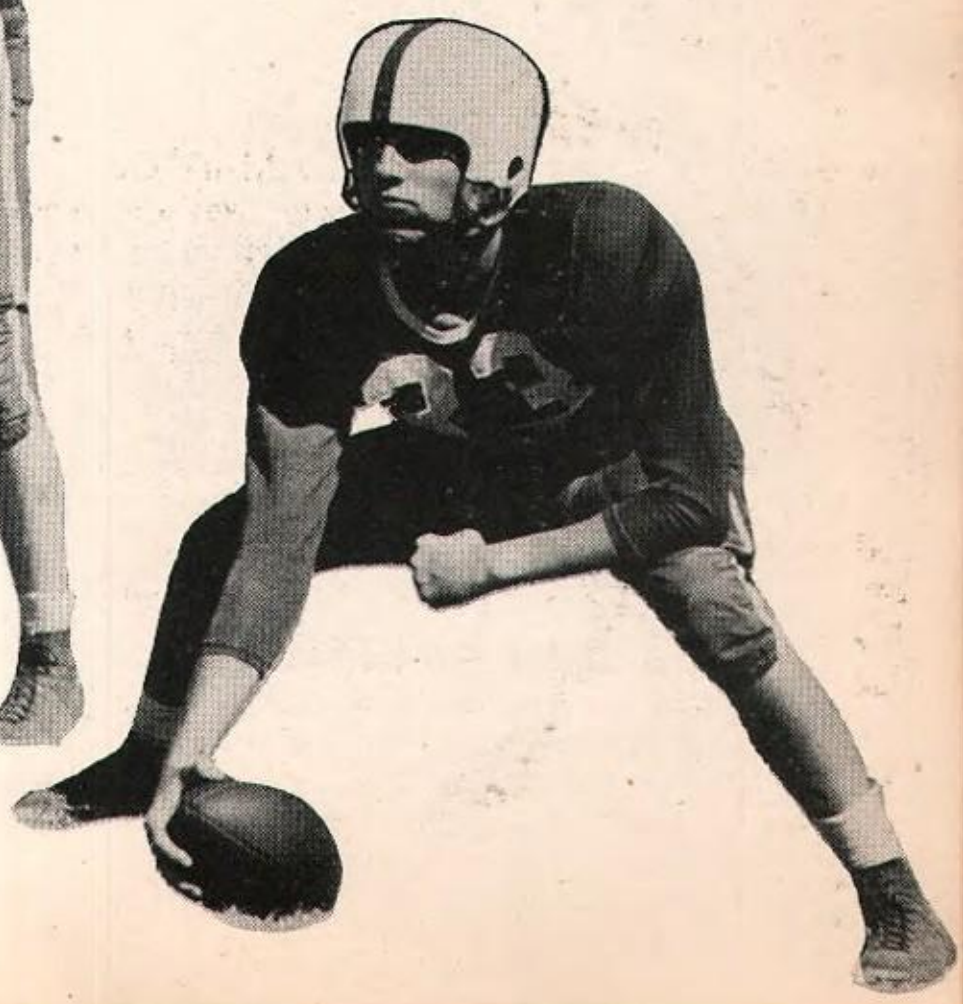
CHARLES HORTON

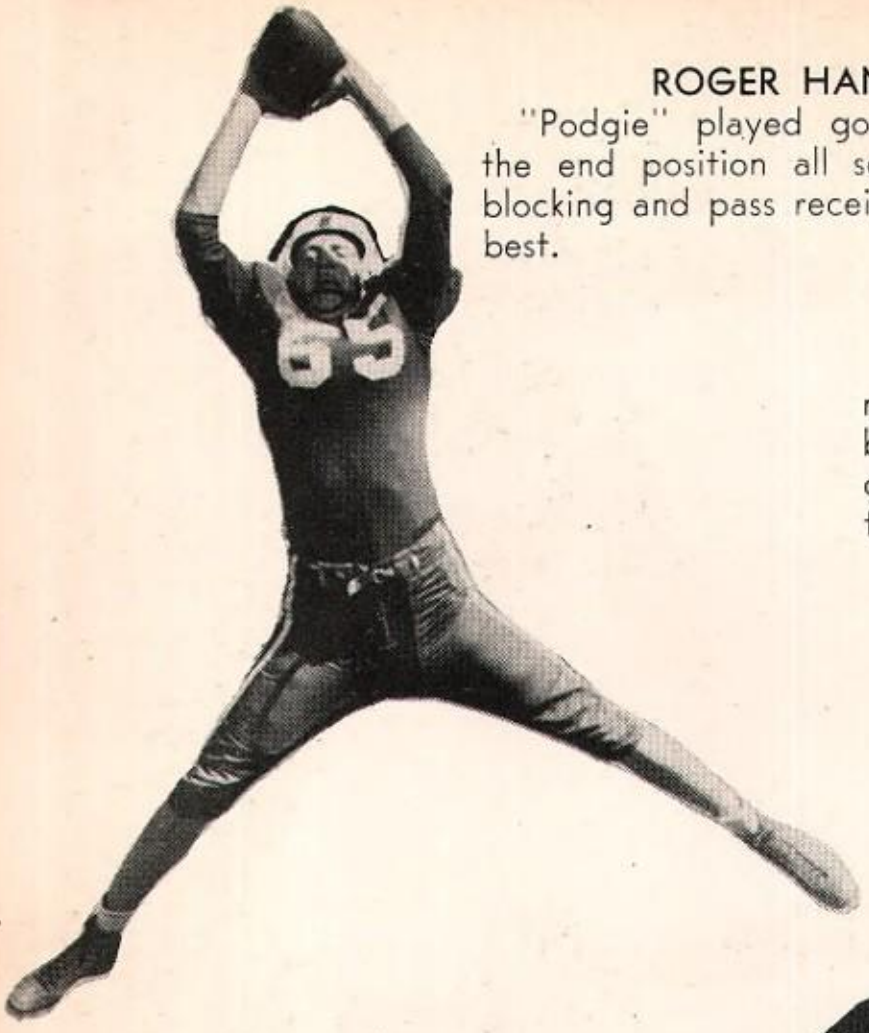
"Choche," playing center in many games, proved himself to be a competent and willing asset at this position. His services will be lost through graduation.

DAVID DONALDSON

"Donnie," a fast charging end on defense and a hard blocking center on offense, proved himself to be a valuable asset to the COYOTES on many occasions. He will be missed on the squad of '48.

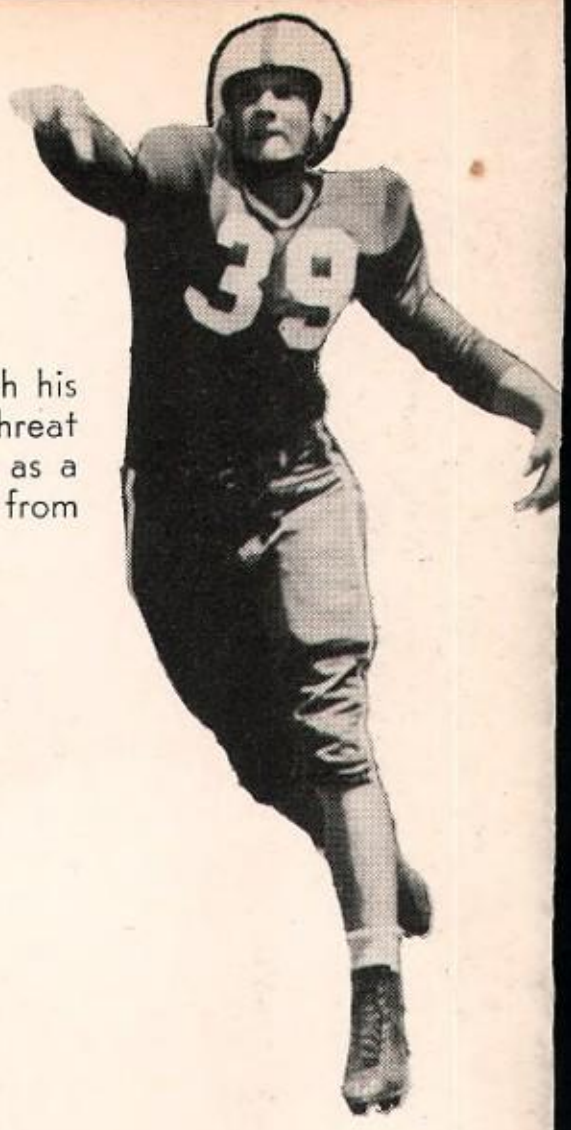






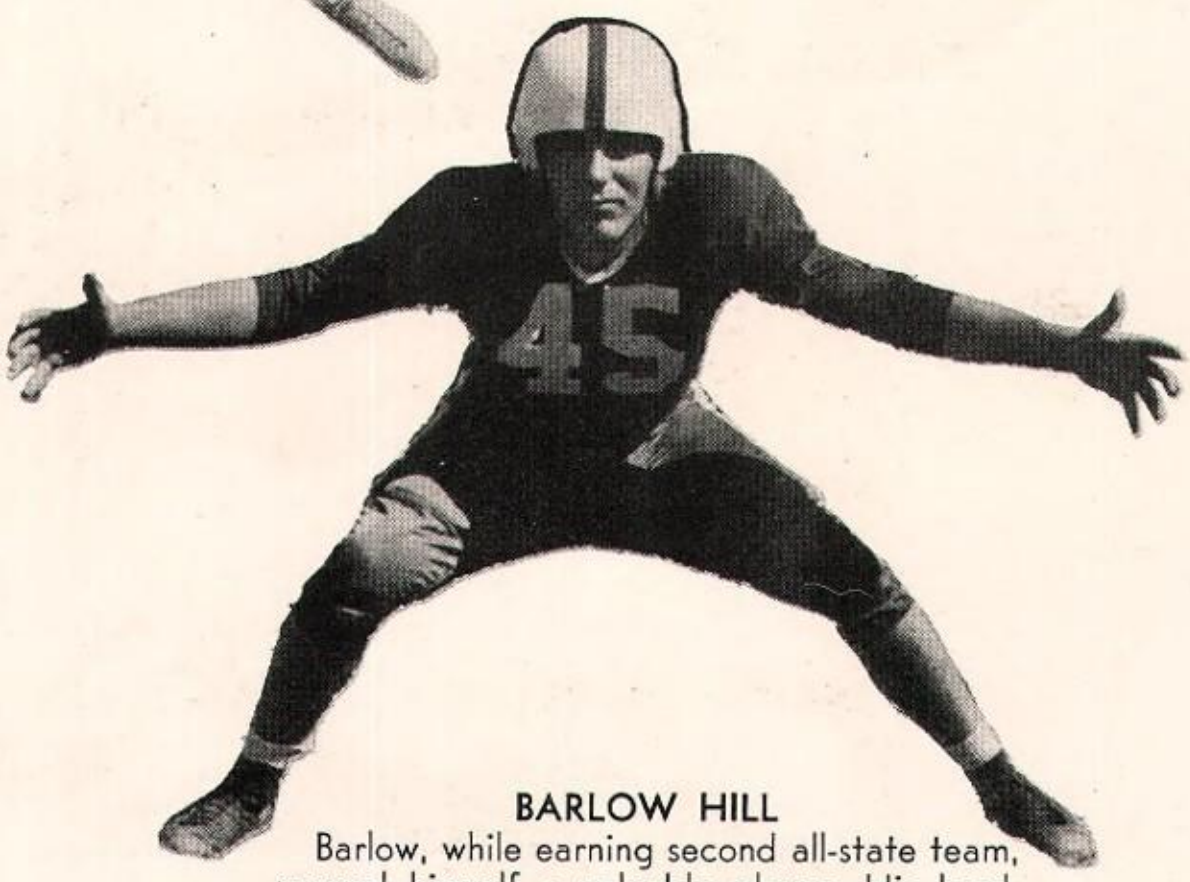
ROGER HANKS

"Podgie" played good clean football in the end position all season. His downfield blocking and pass receiving were among the best.



WILLIAM WOOD

"Bubby's" passing mixed together with his running and kicking made him a triple threat back. In each department he stood out as a great back. Graduation will take him from the lineup.

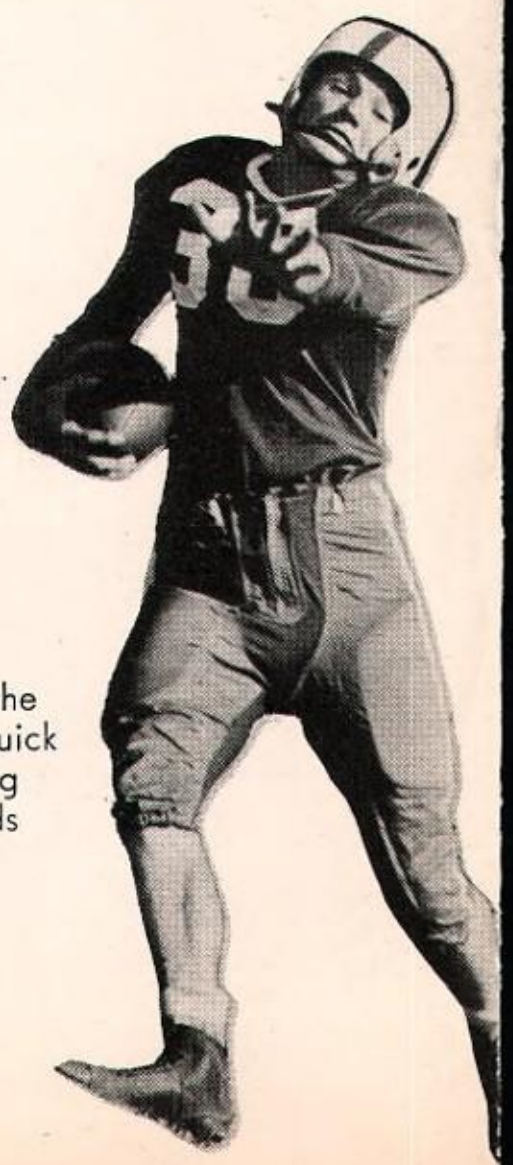


BARLOW HILL

Barlow, while earning second all-state team, proved himself a valuable player. His hard, low charging raised a big problem for our rivals. He will be taken from the team by graduation.

HAROLD McINROE

"Fort Worth" was a dependable player all year. His action at the end position was considered great by those who witnessed it. He will be back to claim a berth next year.



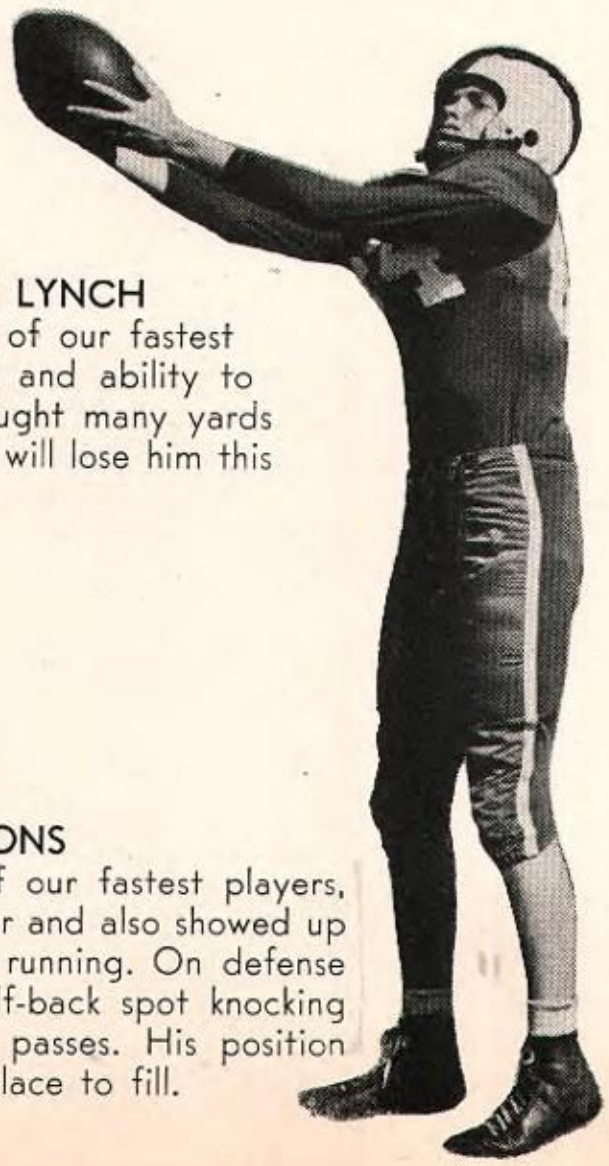
JIMMY LAWRENCE

"Speedy," handicaped most of the the season by an injury, used his quick starts to great advantage in knifing through the line and skirting the ends for needed yardage.

COYOTES-QUANAH

RALPH LYNCH

Ralph was one of our fastest backs. His speed and ability to change pace brought many yards to his credit. We will lose him this year.



FREDDY SIMMONS

"Fritz," one of our fastest players, was a great pass receiver and also showed up well in his broken field running. On defense he stood out in the half-back spot knocking down and intercepting passes. His position as end will be a hard place to fill.

TOMMY CLAER

"Slick," one of our fastest ends, saw little service because of lack of weight. When given a chance to show his ability, the squad could always depend on him. His services will be lost through graduation.

AMARILLO

CALVIN WINDHAM

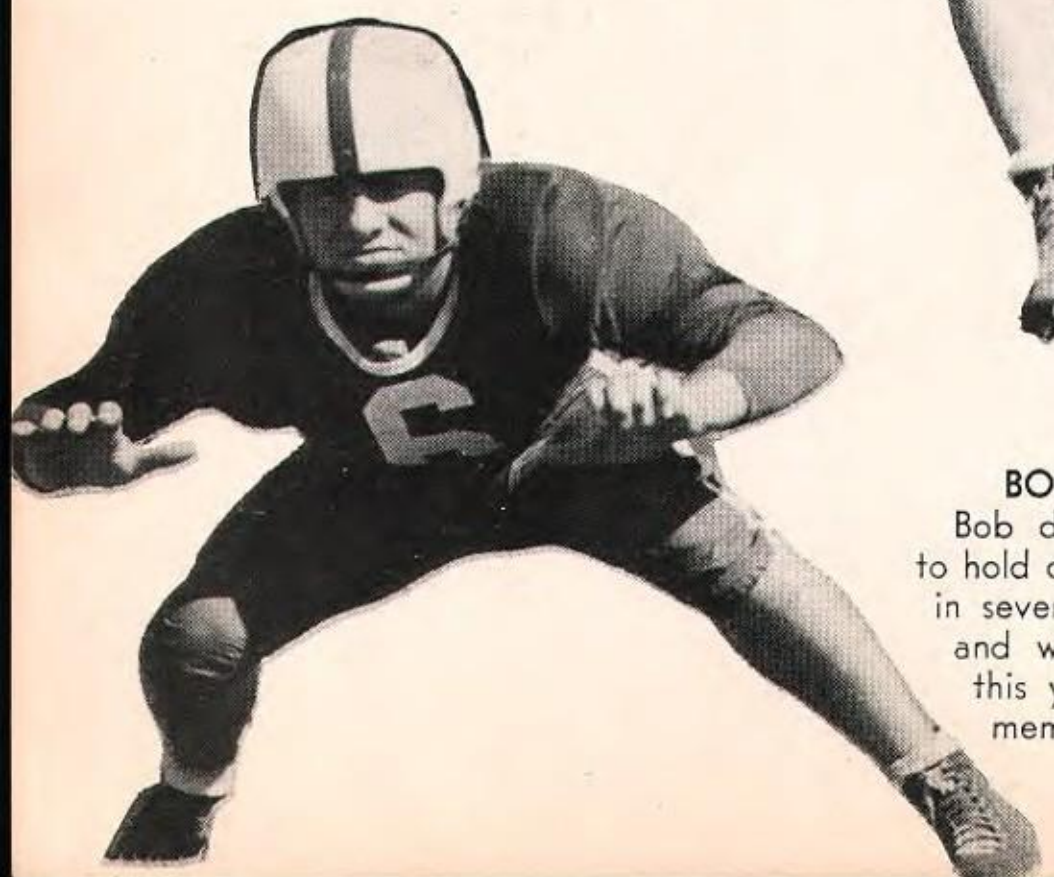
Calvin called the signals part of the time. His speed and willingness to try made him a fine back.

WAYNE LIGON

Wayne, playing his first year on the COYOTES, showed up very well. Playing guard, he showed his aggressiveness all during the season. Look for him next year.

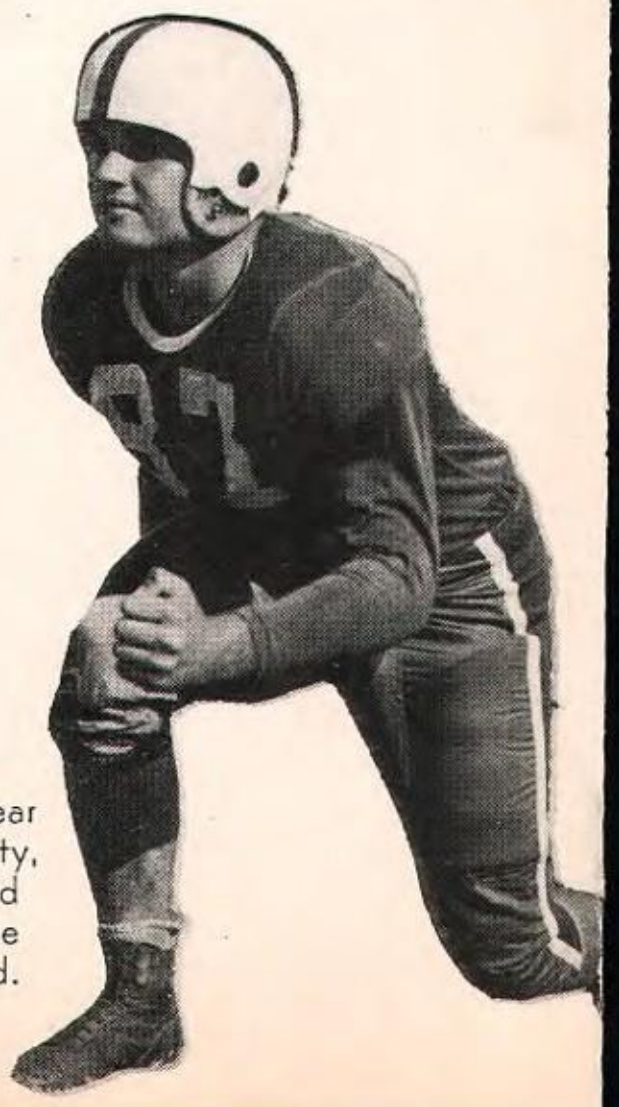
CLARENCE LAWSON

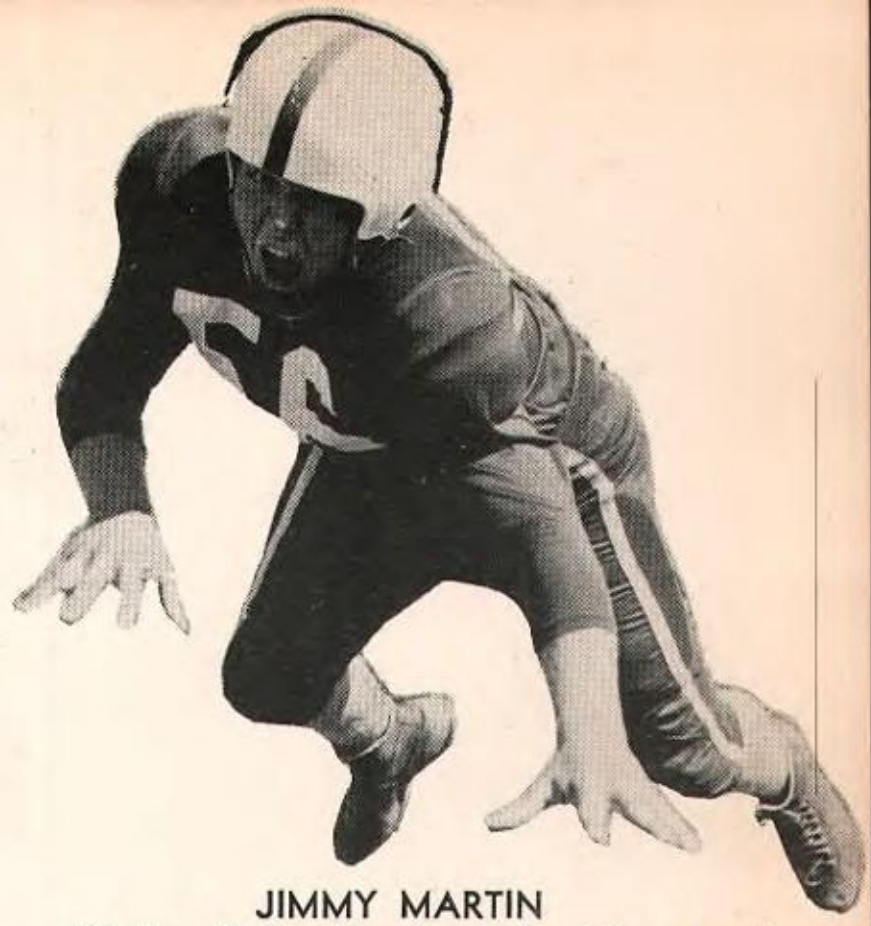
"Bull," our hard plunging fullback, showed up as well on defense as on offense. His powerful running was a constant threat to any opponent. He will be lost this year.



BOB GAUT

Bob demonstrated his ability to hold down the guard slot this year in several games. With this ability, and with the experience gained this year, he will be a valuable member of next year's squad.





JIMMY MARTIN

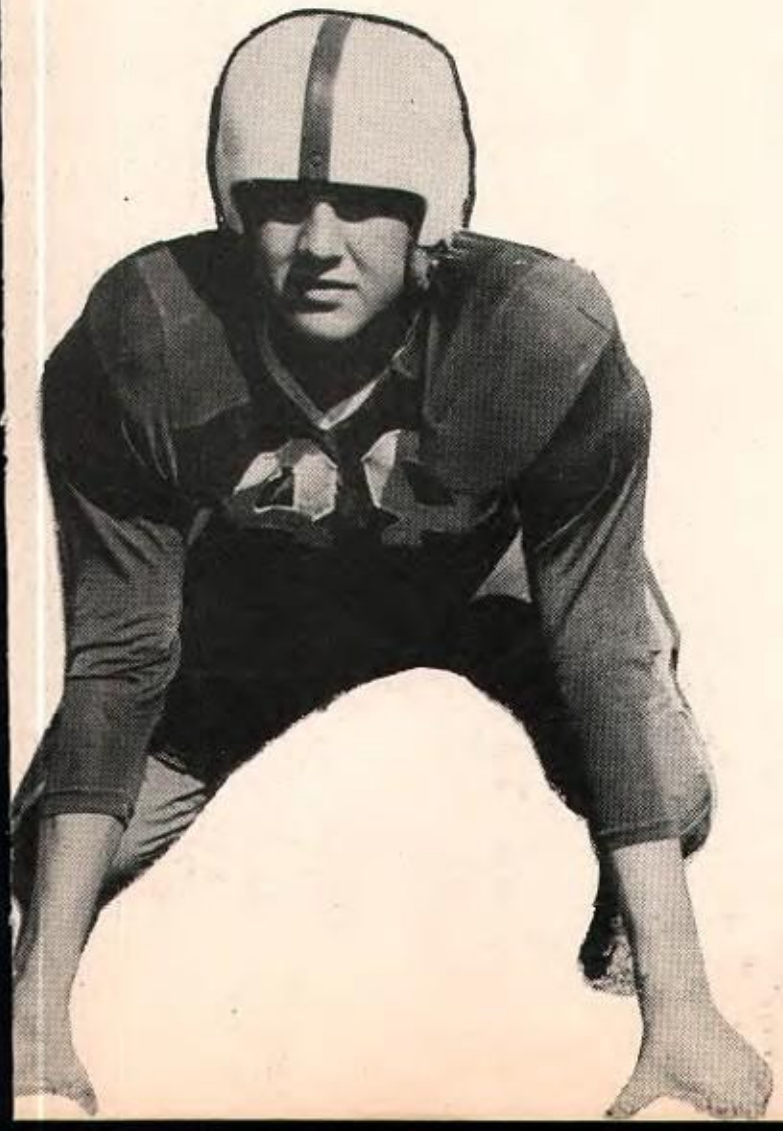
"Cotton "who played guard, put in a good brand of football all year. His play on defense stood out over his other possibilities.

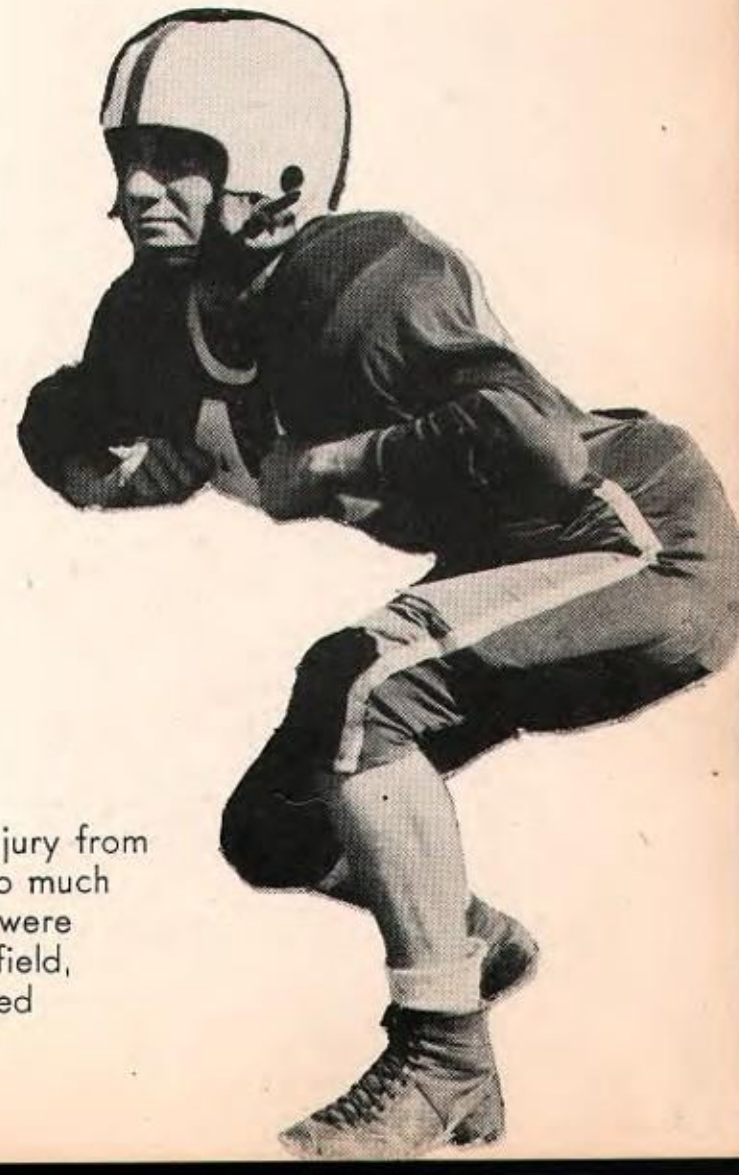
DUB JONES

Dub, who accounted for much of the COYOTES '47 success by his signal calling, showed his versatility and fighting spirit on many occasions. He will be greatly missed on the squad of '48.

CHARLES BRANDON

"Chuck," who played the guard position, was constantly cheering the boys with his pep and spirit. He will not be seen in the lineup next year.



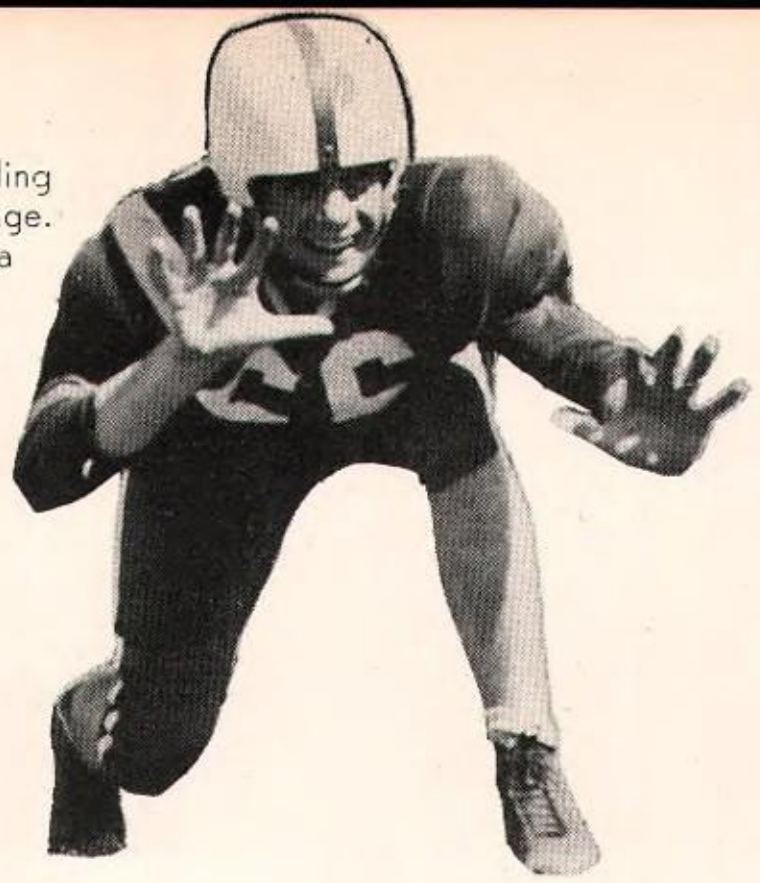


BOB HALL

Bob, hampered by a knee injury from last year, didn't get to see too much action this year. His services were well appreciated in the backfield, however, and he will be missed next season.

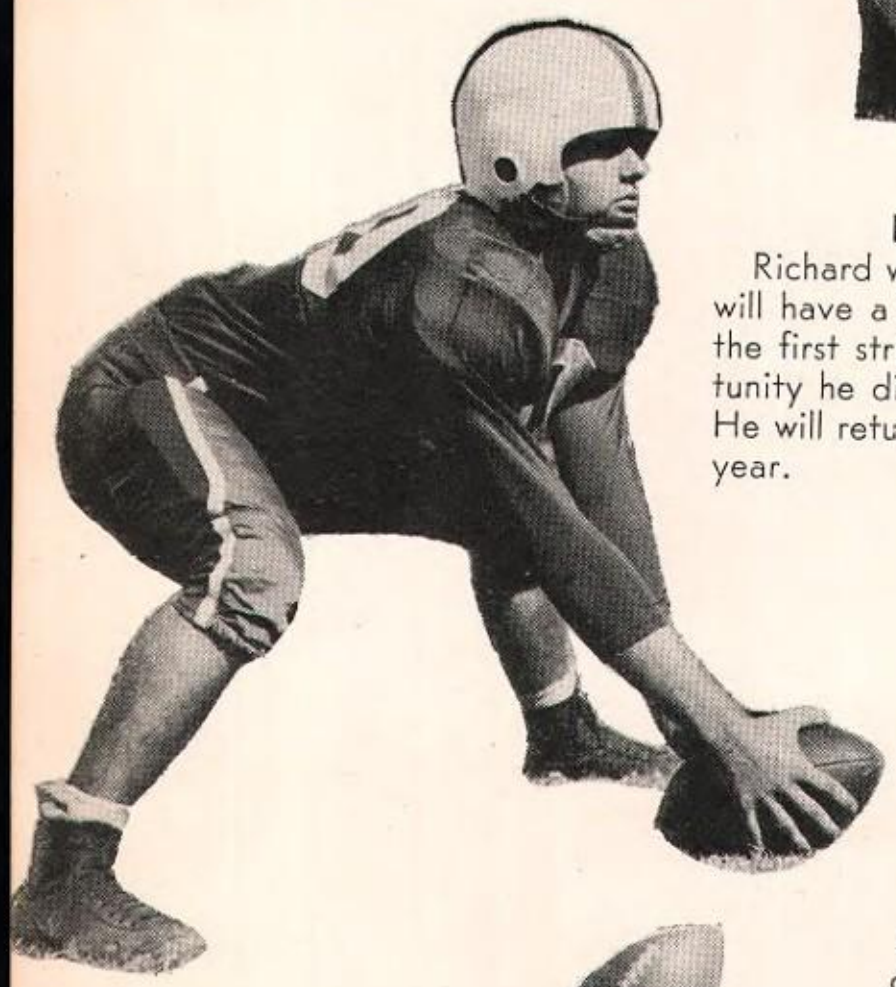
JOHNNY ALLRED

This tall, lanky end had a habit of pulling down those long passes for needed yardage. His excellent defense work made him a constant threat to the opposing team. His loss through graduation will be a setback to the COYOTES of '48.



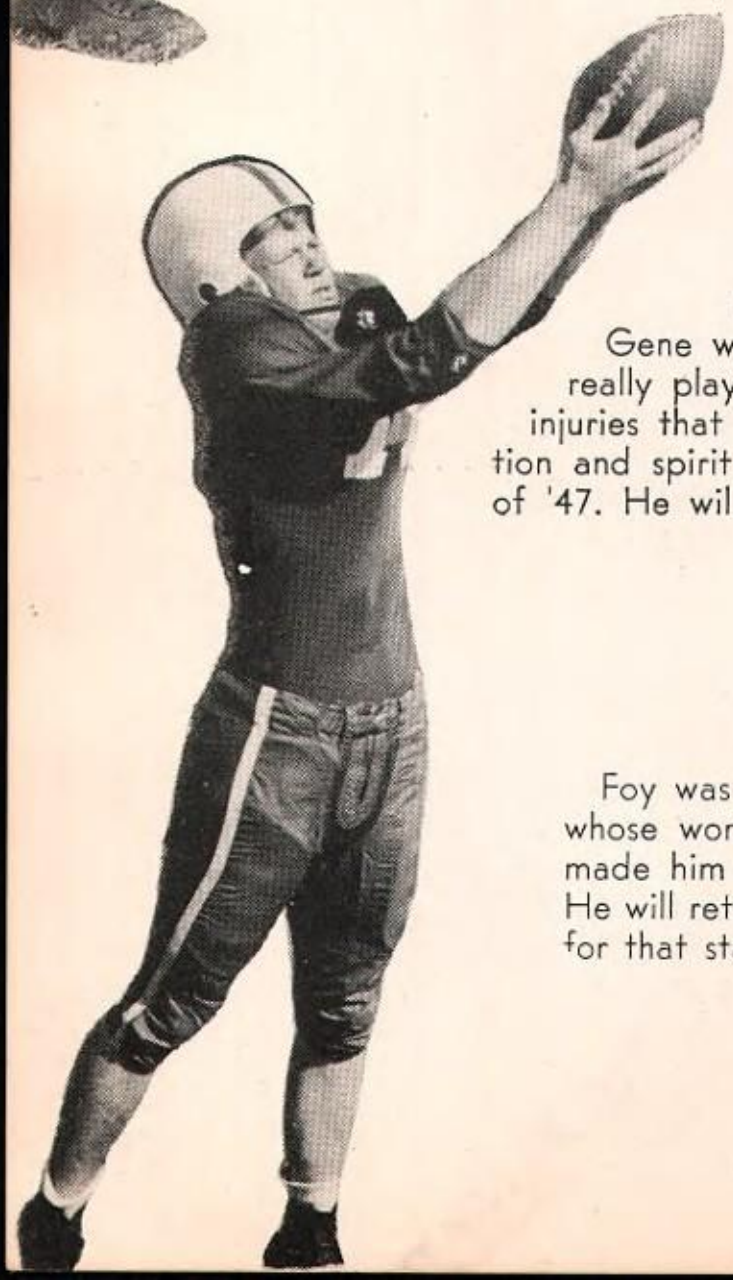
RICHARD COLEMAN

Richard was one of our reserve centers who will have a big job next year to take over the first string position. At every opportunity he displayed that "will to win." He will return for added service next year.



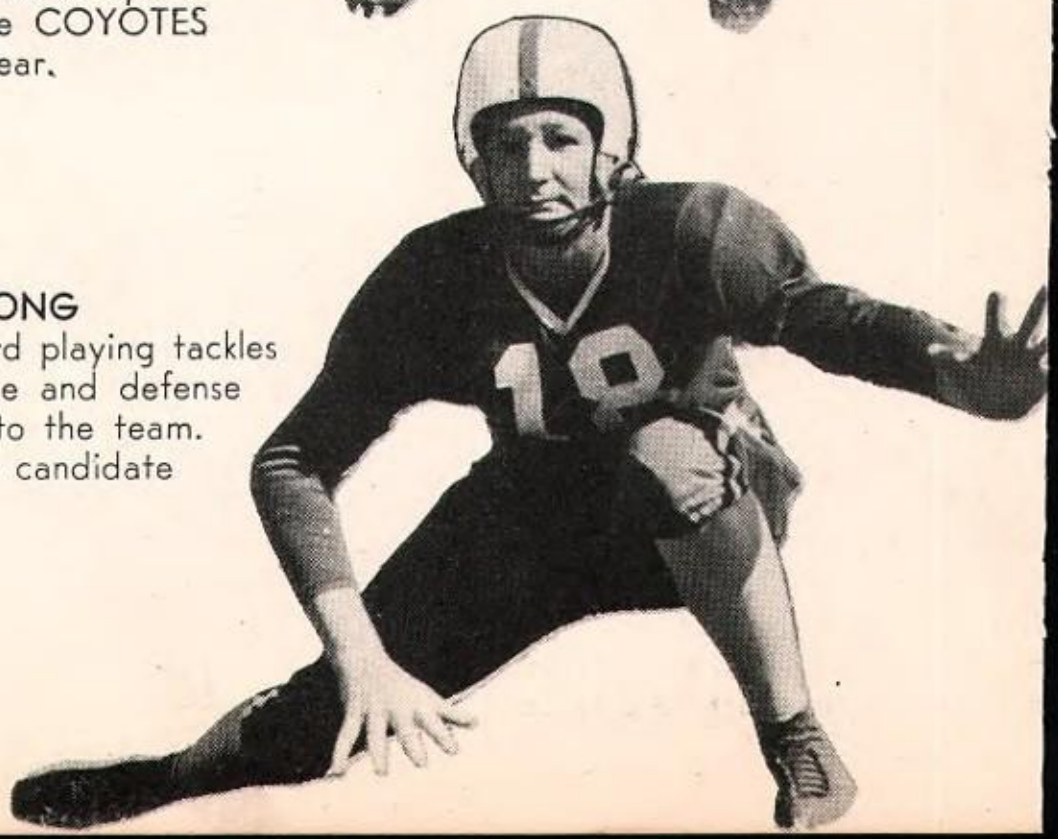
BERT CLARK

Bert is one of our guards who made the COYOTE forward a virtual "stonewall". Rated on the second all-state team, brilliant work will leave a big order to fill next year in the guard position.



GENE BOREN

Gene was one of our fine ends who really played his best this year despite injuries that hampered him. His co-operation and spirit helped make the COYOTES of '47. He will graduate this year.



FOY ARMSTRONG

Foy was one of those hard playing tackles whose work on both offense and defense made him a fine addition to the team. He will return next year as a candidate for that starting eleven.

COYOTES

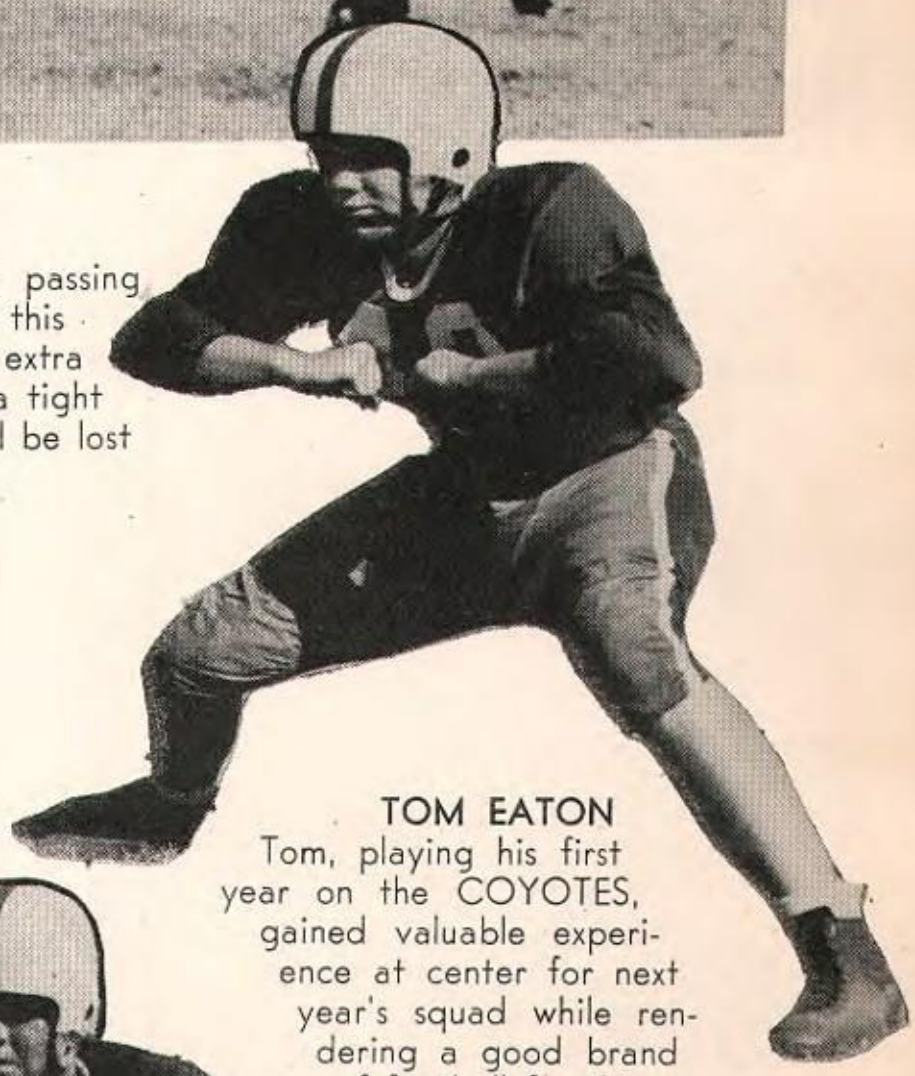
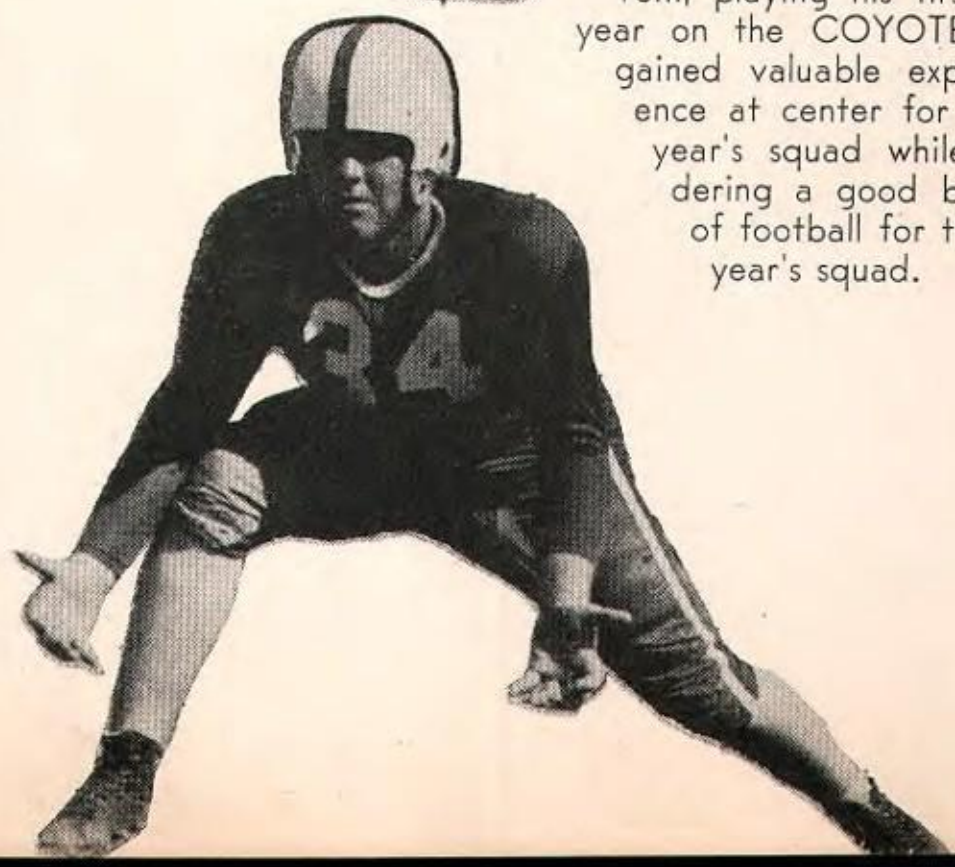
JIM BOSWORTH

Jim's excellent running and passing added much to the COYOTES this year. His hard drives for that extra yard often came in handy in a tight game. His valuable services will be lost through graduation.



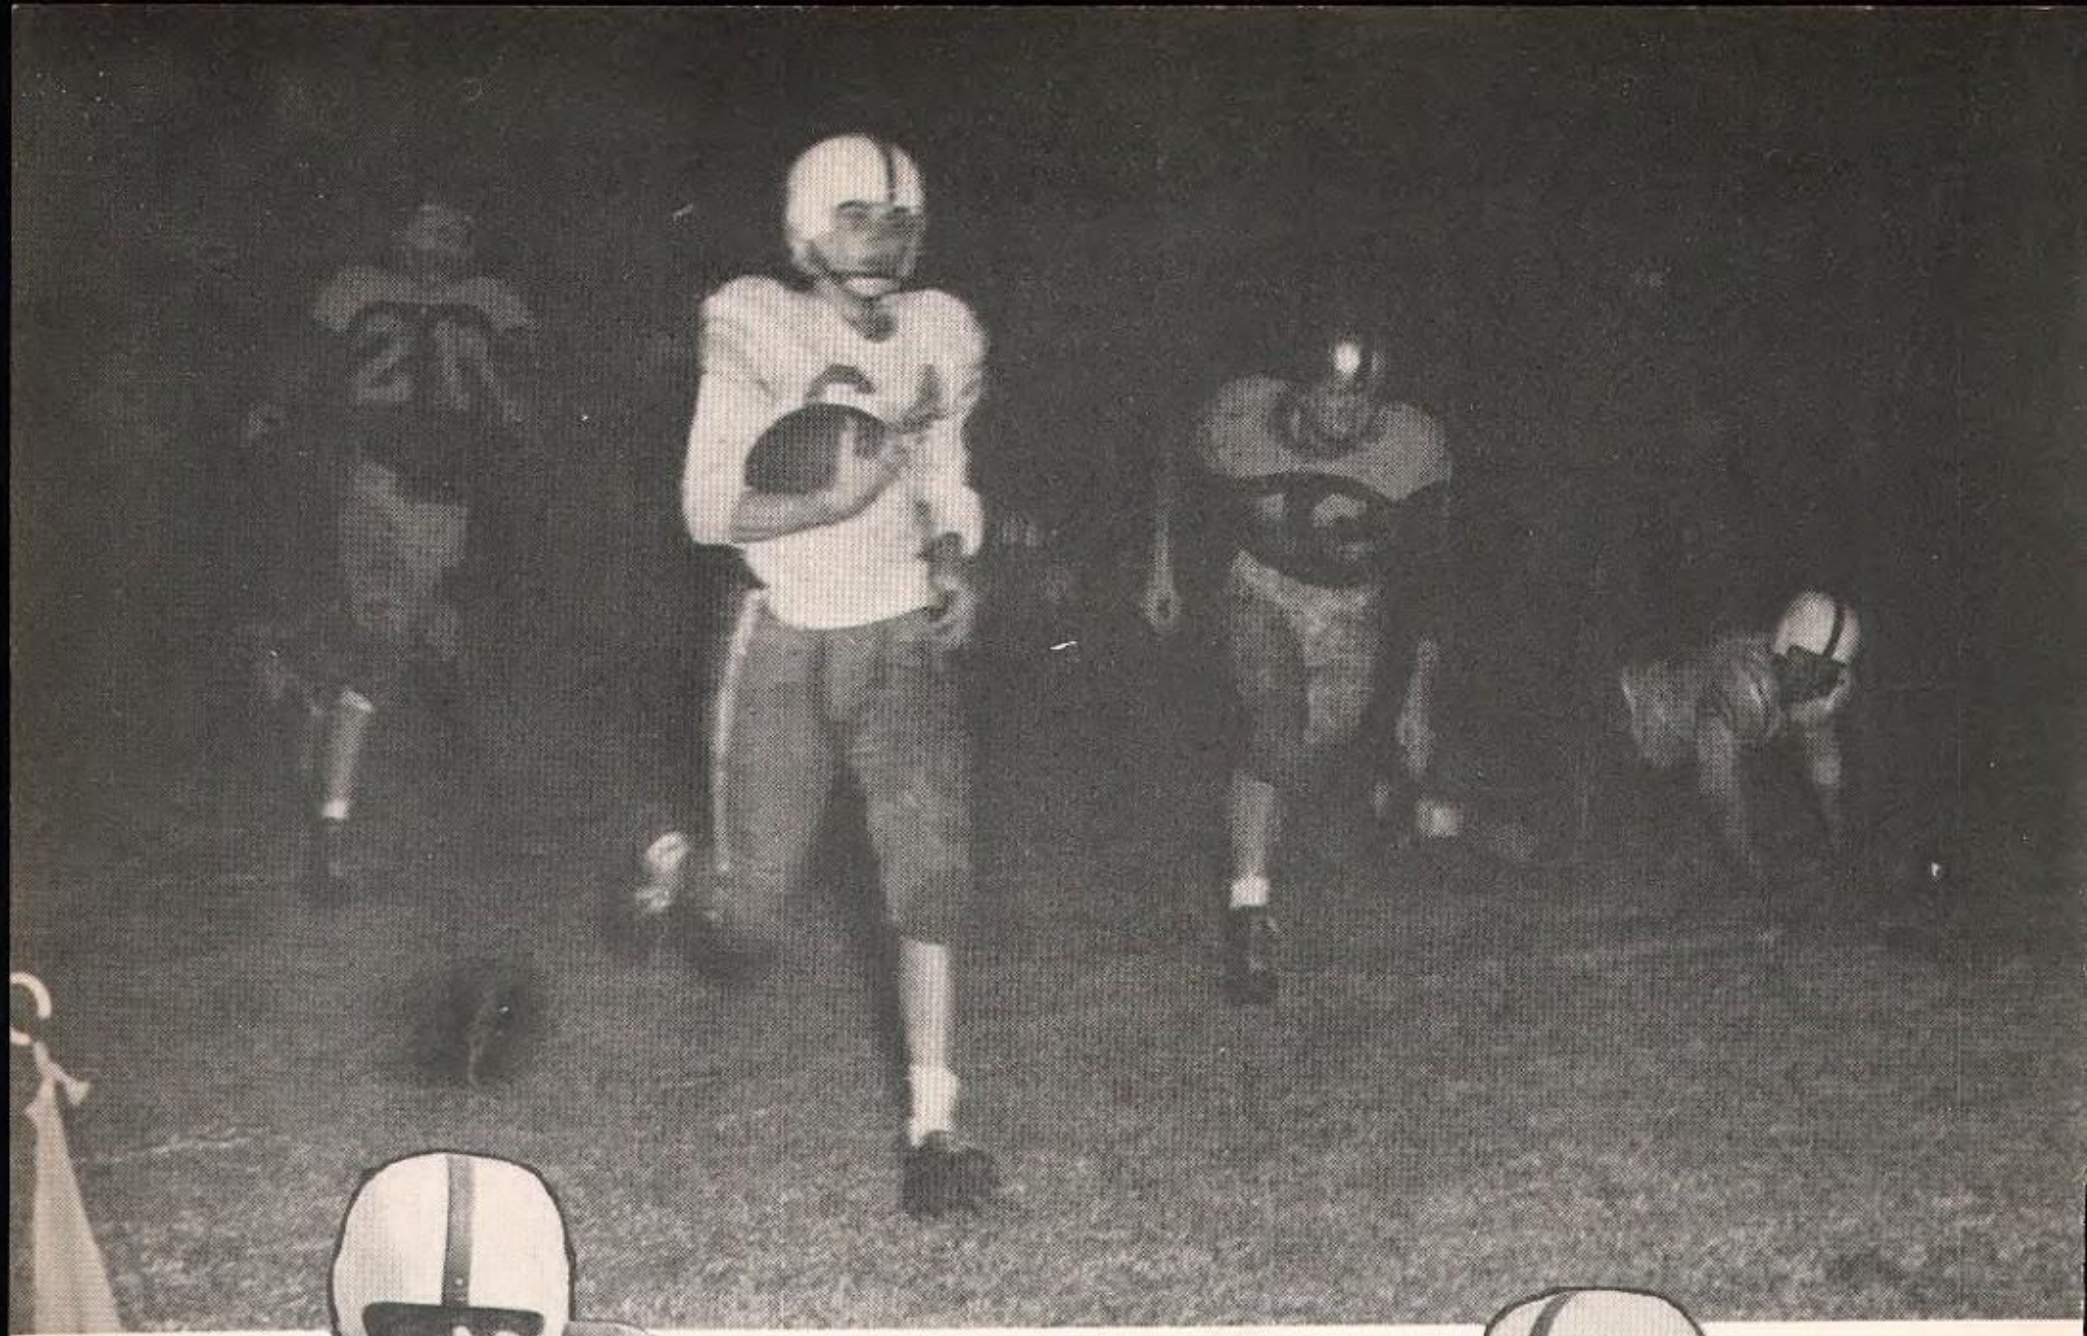
TOM EATON

Tom, playing his first year on the COYOTES, gained valuable experience at center for next year's squad while rendering a good brand of football for this year's squad.

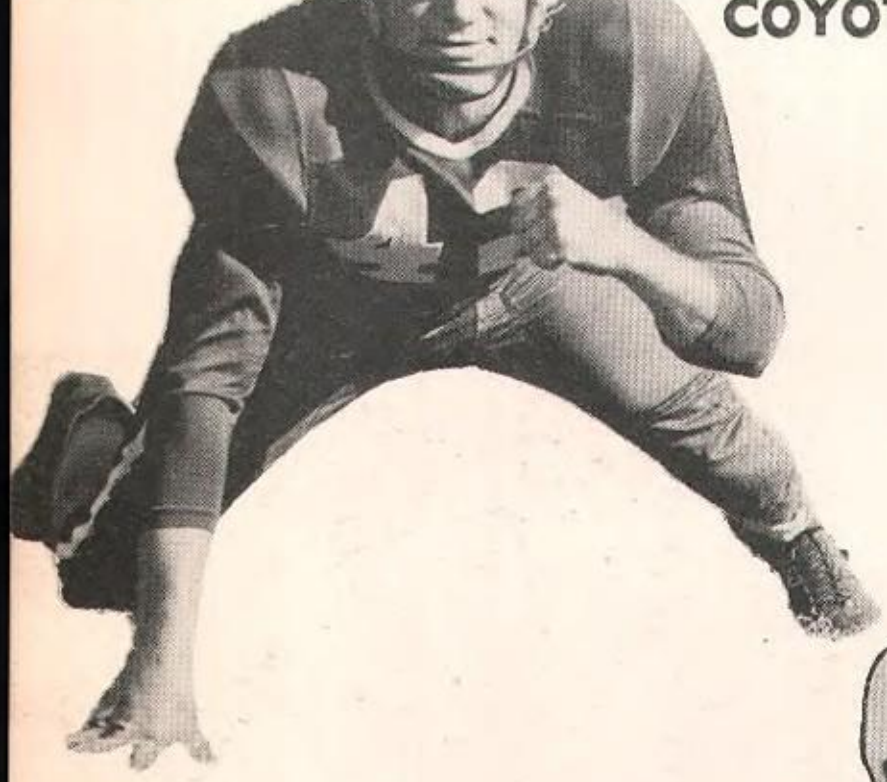


HOWARD LUCAS

"Luke," a substitute tackle, played his first year on the COYOTES this season. His determination to play showed up in the games in which he entered.



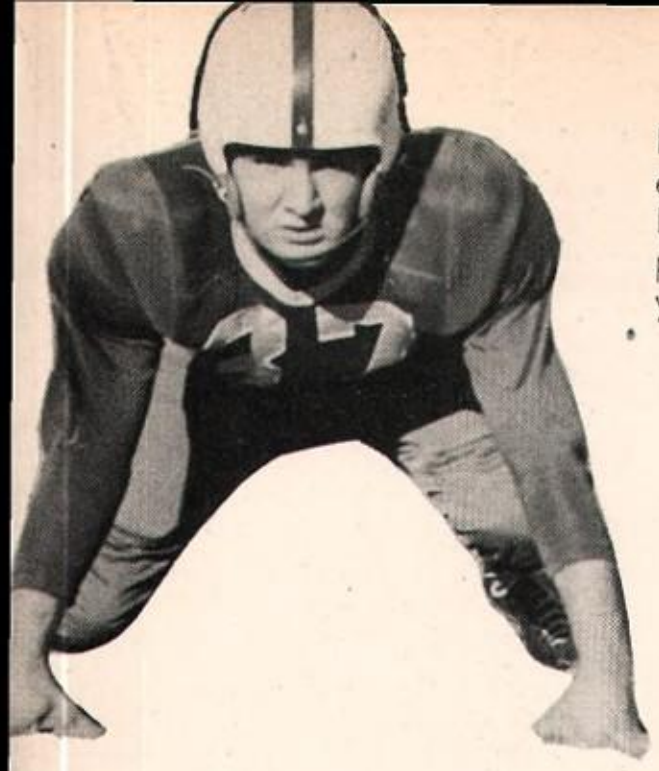
COYOTES-HIGHLAND PARK



LEE VERNE MARSHALL
"Curly" filled his guard position well. His alertness gave him the right to play in every game. His absence next year will be keenly felt.

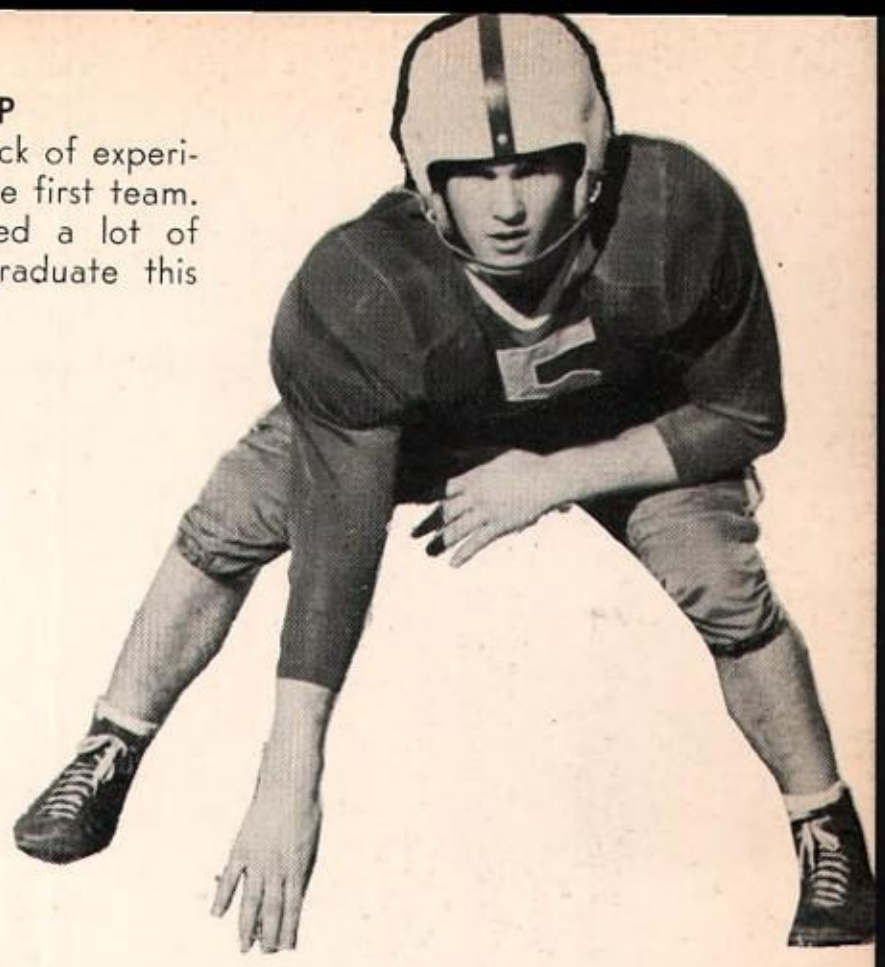
CHESTER WILSON
"Chesty" played a lot of football this year. His eagerness to play made him hard to move on defense. He will be a great loss this year.

LOREN HENDERSON
Loren crashed through the line for valuable yardage on many occasions. His success in playing was due chiefly to his determination and spirit.



BILLY BLANKENSHIP

Billy was another guard whose lack of experience was all that kept him off the first team. Despite his small size he packed a lot of punch into the line. He will graduate this year.



JERRY BLANTON

Jerry, playing his first season on the COYOTES, was handicapped by a late start. Competing with three experienced players in his position, (Lawson, Woods, Henderson) Jerry did not see very much action. However, he should be a valuable asset to next year's squad.

CURTIS CONNER

Curtis was a guard who was always in there giving his best. His late start because of illness was a great handicap to him, but he will be ready to go next season.

JIMMY STACKS

Stacks, as a reserve forward, was always capable of adding a few points from the corner on his hook shots. His fine team-work and ability added a lot to the COYOTES of '48. Jim will be lost through graduation.

JAMES RIDDLE

James was one of our outstanding players. He was placed on the all-star team of the Jaycee Tournament. His accuracy on shots made him high point man several times.

DUB JONES

Dub, getting a late start after football season, showed his spirit and ability on many occasions by running up points for the COYOTES from the forward position. He will be lost through graduation.

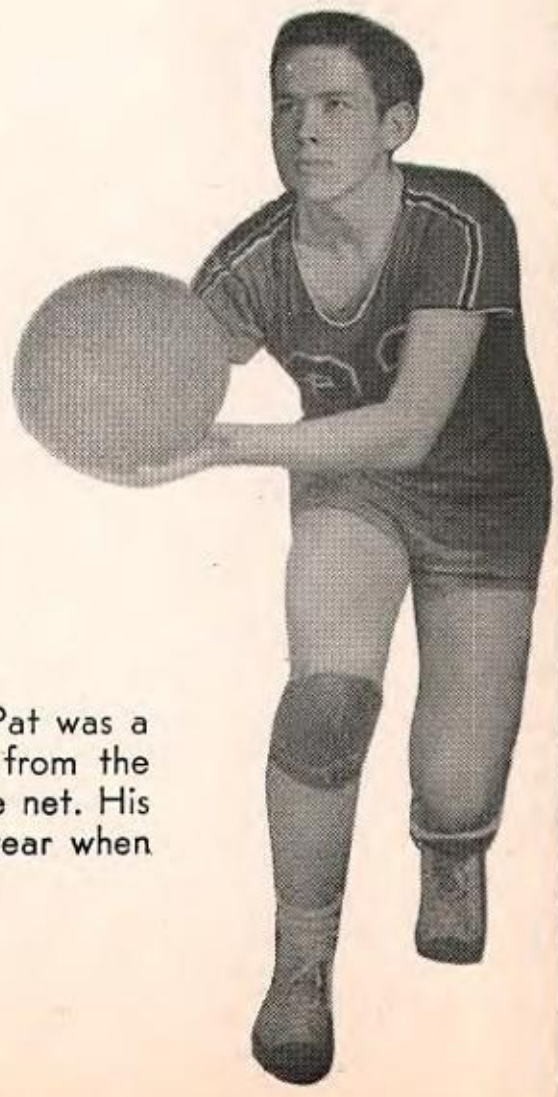
TOMMY McLAREN

Playing a fine game at guard, Tommy showed his ability in making long shots. His speed and height gave him a slight advantage over other players.

KENNETH STANDRIDGE

"Squat", one of the more consistent scorers on the COYOTES this year, showed himself to be a constant threat to the opposition from the guard position. He will be missed on next year's squad.



PAT STUART

As he proved in the games this year, Pat was a reserve guard of fine caliber. His shots from the floor usually found themselves through the net. His services will really be appreciated next year when he returns for the COYOTES of '49.

DON JACKS

Don was a first string center. His height enabled him to control the backboard and follow up team-mates' shots. He also could be depended on for a couple of points on his long set shots. His graduation will leave a large spot open under the basket.

GENE BOREN

Gene, the captain of this year's squad, scored from almost any position on the court to take high point honors in many games. His consistent shooting and steady play earned him a position on the all-star team in the Jaycee Tournament. He will be greatly missed on the squad of '49.

BILLY SKIDMORE

Billy, one of the starting forwards, was considered our best defensive player. Not only did he shine on defense, but he also had a good eye for the basket on set shots. He will be lost through graduation.

DALE HOUSE

Dale, playing reserve center, started almost all the second team games and showed his ability to make scores from any position on many occasions. He won't be back next year.

GIL BOATMAN

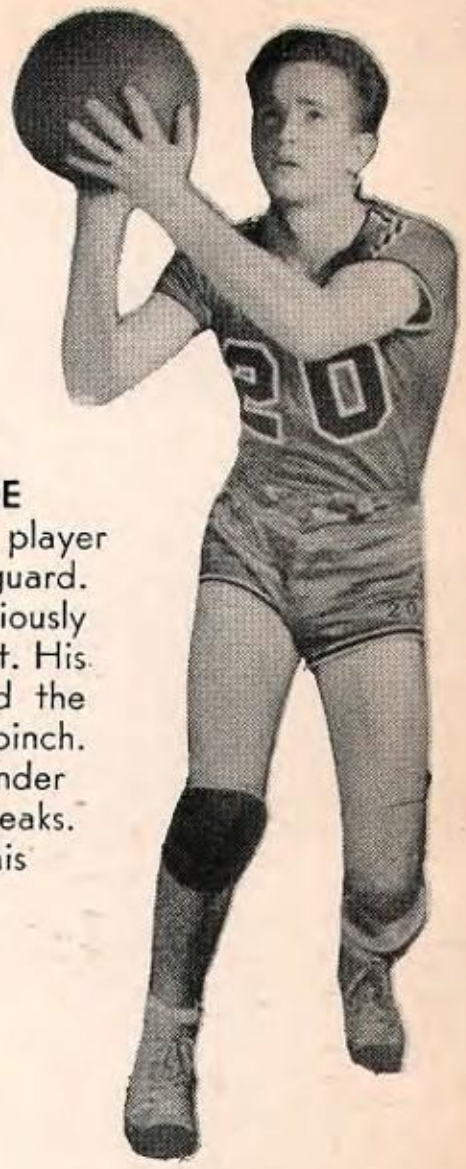
"Corky" was one of the capable reserve forwards whose pep and spirit were really a big help to the COYOTES. His eye for the basket made him a threat anywhere on the floor. His enthusiasm for the game was never daunted. Like most of the team, he gets a diploma in May.

BILL YOUNGBLOOD

Bill, in spite of his size, proved himself to be a valuable player in the guard position. His constant chatter and spirit were always helpful to the morale of the team. Watch for him next year.

DWAIN ROSS

Dwain was a fine reserve guard. Although his service was limited, he played a fine brand of ball. His ball handling and shooting ranked among the best. "Curly" is a May senior.



WENDELL McCULLEY

Wendell's cool thinking enabled him to start several games. He had a sharp eye for the basket and hit it continuously from his forward position.

BUSTER GOODE

Buster was a fine player who played reserve guard. He always played seriously and really did his best. His ability always helped the COYOTES out in a pinch. His hot spot was under the basket on fast breaks. Buster graduates this year.

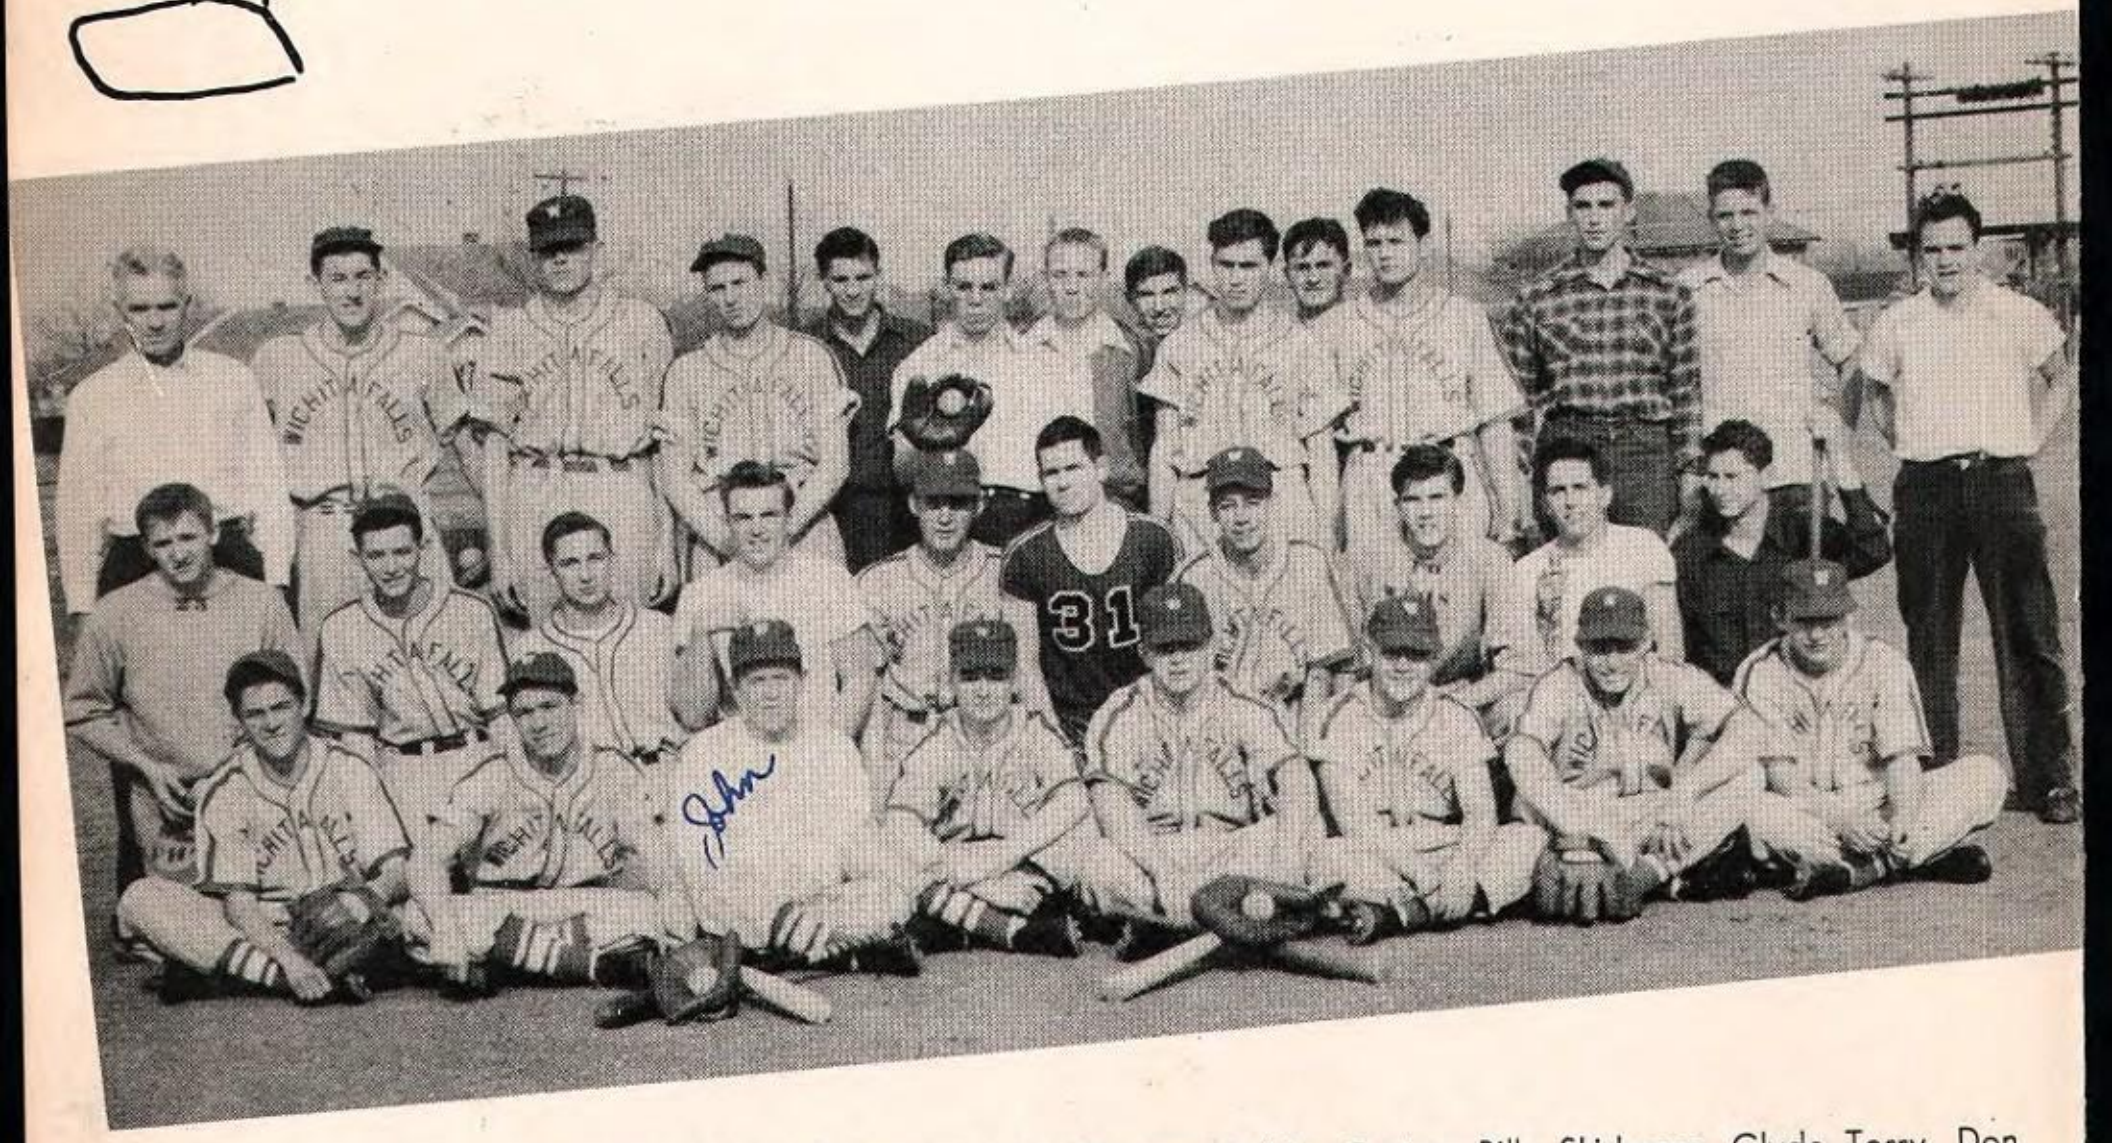
BASEBALL

After a very successful 1947 season in which they won all district games, the COYOTE basball players got back into uniform to try for another good record. Several lettermen from last year will add their ability and power to the COYOTE squad. Under the direction and watchful eye of Coach Richard Moss, the COYOTES will attempt to display a finely co-ordinated ball club this year. Unfortunately the sports editors are unable to secure individual pictures because of lack of time. Scores for the district games are not available as they are yet to be played as the yearbook goes to press.



First Row: Sammy Matthews, Harry Tillerson, John Clanton, Bobby Carter, Billy Skidmore, Clyde Terry, Don Reed, and Bobby Howard.
